"PEEPING TOMS" ANNOY WOMEN AND GIRLS IN CENTRALVILLE

Residents of "Over the River" Section Alarmed at Actions of Three Men—Police Notified That "Peepers" Hide Behind Trees and Look in Windows

Residents of Centralville, especially those in the Christian hill section, are alarmed at the actions of three alleged "Peeping Toms" who have been operating in the district for the past several weeks. The police have been notified of the reported misdoings of the trio, two of whom are alleged to be working in concert, and the third, alone.

The latest rumors that the "Peeping Toms" were at work reached the police last night, and officers Ambrose, Urganer and Arthur Dwyer, night guardians of the law in Centralville, com-mandered an automobile and scoured the neighborhood without success. The majority of the complaints registered against night prowlers have come from women who have been terrorized by a man following them at night, hiding behind trees and looking in windows. The situation has become so alarming that women and girls express fear in walking the streets without an escort. All attempts to run down the suspects have been futile, although the police and private citizens have a good description of the guilty parties.

POLICE BELIEVE WOMAN JUMPED FROM CANAL BRIDGE

Mysterious Disappearance of Woman Seen Last Evening Standing on Bridge Immediately before Splash in Water Was Heard Leads to Suicide Theory

A splash in the water of the Pawtucket canal about 8 o'clock last night, and the mysterious disappearance of an unknown woman from the bridge spanning the canal near Cabot street, have led the police to form a theory that a suicide was committed there, and that the supposed victim is a stout, middle-aged woman wearing a black dress, tan coat and black hat. There is no positive proof to substantiate the suicide theory other than the report of two young girls, Irene Boulanger, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Boulanger of 36 Salem street, and Jeannette Brunelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brunelle of 45 Salem street, who told the police that they were returning to their respective homes together about 8 o'clock last night. They had occasion to cross the canal bridge at Cabot street, they said, and noticed a woman standing alone in the center of the span. As they approached her, she turned half-way around and appeared to cover her face. When the girls had passed but a short distance beyond, they heard a splash in the water, and looking around, noticed that the woman had disappeared. There was no entry or any indication of a struggle in the water beneath the bridge, but the girls felt positively sure that the splash was caused by the weight of a human body. There have been no women reported to the police as missing within the past 24 hours.

KILL CARETAKER; WHEELER URGED "SQUARE DEAL"

Miss Stopa and Man, Companion Invade Country Home of Y. K. Smith

Shoot and Kill Caretaker and Fire Two Shots at Smith's Wife

CHICAGO, April 24.—Miss Wanda Stopa, formerly of Detroit, and said to have been a resident of an artists' colony here, accompanied by a man, invaded the country home of Y. K. Smith, an advertising man, today, shot and killed Henry Manning, a caretaker, and fired two shots at Smith's wife. "I'm going downtown and kill him too," Miss Stopa screamed as she and her companion fled in an automobile. The police rushed a detail to the office of John B. Dunham and Co., where Smith is employed, then took him to the state attorney's office and left a guard.

Smith declared Miss Stopa, with whom he said he formerly was friendly, according to the state's attorney, had demanded that he divorce his wife and marry her.

Smith said he had met Miss Stopa when she was employed in the office of the United States district attorney here. She had returned to Detroit some time ago, he said, and he expressed the belief that she came back to Chicago determined to kill him and his wife. She once before had threatened him, he charged.

Miss Stopa and her companion, whose name was said by the police to be Ted Glasgow, failed to appear at the Dunham office and they are being sought.

TAX REDUCTION BILL

Senate Clears Calendar Preparatory to Plunging Into Consideration of Measure

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The senate cleared the calendar of some minor bills today preparatory to plunging into consideration of the tax reduction measure—the major item on its legislative program and the most controversial. The revenue bill was made the unfinished business of the senate yesterday immediately after passage of the bonus bill.

Expecting to get to work on the bill later today, Chairman Smoot of the finance committee declared it would be held before the senate until definite progress had been made toward its disposition.

He predicted at least two weeks would be required for consideration of the bill but other leaders expressed the opinion that more time would be necessary. Only five remain before the time tentatively set by leaders of both the senate and house for adjournment. The republican convention meets June 10.

CHANGES COMING IN TRAIN SCHEDULES

Announcements were posted this morning in display type at the Middlesex street railroad station, notifying patrons of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Boston & Maine railroads that at 2 a. m. Sunday, April 27, the train schedules of both railroads will be changed to conform to the daylight savings law of Massachusetts.

The Sun was informed at the railroad ticket offices that several changes in Lowell-Boston train schedules are due on and after April 27. The new timetables were expected to be out on April 25, but the Boston & Maine offices on Middlesex street have not received their allotment.

Railroad men say that the 1924 timetable changes, due to the daylight saving system, may be more numerous than those made in 1923, but no traffic official in the Lowell district knows exactly what passenger trains will be affected this year.

CYRUS W. IRISH AUDITORIUM

Acoustic Defects Due to Excessive Reverberation Can Be Corrected

High School Auditorium Was Thoroughly Tested Today By Acoustical Engineers

Test Included Presentation of Scenes From Recent School Play "The Boomerang"

The acoustical defects of the Cyrus W. Irish auditorium of the high school, located in the new building, are due to excessive reverberation, and can be corrected, is the opinion of acoustical engineers who today conducted scientific tests of the acoustical properties of the auditorium on invitation of Dr. John H. Lambert, chairman of the building commission.

Prof. Clifford M. Swan of New York, acoustical engineer, who for many years was associated with the late Prof. W. C. Sabine of Harvard university in the development of architectural acoustics and who has been in communication with the building commission for over a year, was in charge of the tests and with him was A. M. McMorran of Boston, representing the Johns-Manville company.

The test consisted of the presentation of several scenes of the school play, "The Boomerang," before the entire student body of the school. Tests were made with the asbestos curtain down and the actors in front of it and also with the curtain up and the actors utilizing the whole stage. During the tests the two acoustical authorities listened from many points of vantage, in the huge auditorium and at their

NATIONAL BALLOON RACE

Texas and Oklahoma Towns Report Sighting Balloons Early This Morning

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 24.—All seven balloons entered in the national elimination race which took the air here late yesterday were still up this afternoon and flying northward, according to available reports received here.

News despatches indicated that the great bags still were hovering over Oklahoma and Texas territory. Most reports said they were traveling high, making their identification impossible. One unidentified bag was reported nearly dragging on the ground near Denison, Tex.

The point farthest north from which a report was received, was Blackwell, Okla., where a balloon, flying eastward, was sighted at 10:40 a. m.

The army wireless station here was awaiting word from the pilots and a watch was being kept for the return of carrier pigeons.

It was learned today that Captain H. E. Honeywell the veteran pilot at the last minute yesterday afternoon had refused to take a basket of pigeons with him because of a superstition that pigeons bring bad luck.

Honeywell's balloon is the only one equipped with a radio broadcasting set. The other balloons are carrying receiving sets only, except R. H. Pournier who is carrying only pigeons. Interest is attached to Honeywell's flight because of the experiment in carrying a broadcasting set. This is thought to be a dangerous experiment because of static electricity which might ignite the bag. This is believed to be the first national balloon race in which radio stations have been able to serve as the communicating medium between free balloons and the earth.

WOMAN ASSAULTED BY HUSBAND ON DANGER LIST AT HOSPITAL

Man Arrested for Drunkenness and Assault and Battery is Held in $1000—Mrs. Domenicka Ignatowicz Told Police Her Husband Assaulted Her With Knife

The name of Mrs. Domenicka Ignatowicz of 155 Lawrence street, who alleges that she was assaulted by her husband yesterday morning, has been placed on the dangerous list at St. John's hospital. Deputy Hugh Downey informed Judge Knight in district court this morning when the husband, Kudek Ignatowicz was called to answer charges against him with drunkenness and assault and battery. In view of this serious development in the woman's condition, the case was continued one week with bonds fixed at $1000.

Mrs. Ignatowicz presented herself at the police station about 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and informed the deputy that her husband had assaulted her with a knife. Officers Thomas O'Sullivan, Joseph Lamoureux and Matthew McCann went to the home in Lawrence street and placed the husband under arrest, and then brought the woman, who was bleeding from multiple wounds on the face and breast, to St. John's hospital. Examination at that institution showed her to be suffering from a knife wound near the heart.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

"No State Sounder Than Its Morals," Says Miss Griffin of Memphis, Tenn.

Cites 49 Varieties of Marriage and Divorce Laws in United States

Advocates Federal Amendment to Constitution to Codify Marriage Laws

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 24.—"No state is sounder than its morals," Miss Marion Griffin of Memphis, Tenn., told the uniform laws committee of the National League of Women Voters in convention here today. Miss Griffin cited 49 varieties of marriage and divorce laws in the 48 states and the District of Columbia as undermining the American home and family and leading toward final breaking up of the states. In 1910, the speaker said, one marriage in ten was broken by divorce; in 1924, one in six. She advocated a federal amendment to the constitution to codify the marriage laws.

"The evil of so many marriage laws is apparent from the great number of states in which there is no minimum age law," she said. "In many states neither good health nor mental fitness, nor financial independence in any degree are required; nor is intermarriage between whites and persons of color prohibited, nor between relatives of

ANOTHER ROW AT OIL COMMITTEE INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Another row over geological surveys in Teapot Dome developed today when the oil committee resumed its hearings.

J. O. Lewis, a petroleum engineer, who testified yesterday that the Dome would have been susceptible to drainage from outside wells had not the government moved to have the oil stand and was asked by Senator Walsh, the committee prosecutor, whether he had not been "guilty of deception" in testifying as an impartial expert.

"The committee sought absolutely impartial experts," said Senator Walsh, "and every member of the committee is dumbfounded to learn that months before you appeared, you had taken a position as in every policy involved in the leasing."

Senator Walsh showed a letter written by Mr. Lewis, showing a position that the witness denied there was any deception and said he was impartial in his study and conclusions.

HOLLYWOOD ORCH. AT ASSOCIATE HALL

All roads will lead to Associate hall tonight as the Hollywood cafe (colored) orchestra from New York will be the main attraction and the dancing public of this city is in for a most enjoyable evening. This orchestra has been playing to large crowds in different cities in New England and has proved to be a great drawing card. When it comes to playing "jazz" these boys certainly have a style all their own. Their appearance in these parts is due to the alacrity of Manager Roane, who happened to be in New York shortly after the cafe in which they were playing was destroyed by fire, and thinking that perhaps the team would be a novelty offering he signed the organization for two weeks' engagement. The first appearance in Lowell will be this evening and again on Saturday evening. This troupe will be at Associate where it will engage in a battle of music with Miner-Doyle's orchestra. The admission on both evenings is 50 cents with free checking.

and a recess for this and the democratic convention later in the same month, will be taken if adjournment should be found impossible, but Representative Longworth, republican leader in the house, is definitely planning to end the session by June 1.

The second installment of 1923 income taxes falls due June 15, and the plan for a reduction of 25 per cent. in these levies is contained in the pending bill. Both house and senate leaders have indicated, however, that if the bill should not be passed before that time, this provision would be removed and omitted in a special resolution.

Several appropriation bills also are awaiting senate action and Chairman Smoot has promised if the revenue bill is delayed, it will be temporarily set aside for disposal of some of these measures.

TOM MIX IN "NORTH OF HUDSON BAY"

In stating that "North of Hudson Bay" is the greatest picture that Tom Mix ever attempted and made, the Rialto management wishes it known that this statement is not in a mere press agent's boast. Mix, in his long and varied career, has made many pictures, but there is not one of them that in any way can be compared to this new picture, which for romance, action, and story eclipses any picture that was ever made.

The picture concerns the adventures of Michael Dane, played by Tom Mix, who is made a duke of the passions of more worldly men. He runs from one misfortune to another, from the murder of his brother, his conviction for aiding the murderer unknowingly, to the hardships he endures on the journey of death.

RIALTO THEATRE

Florence Vidor and David Butler as stars in "Conquering the Woman," the delightfully interesting comedy drama. Miss Vidor is seen as a society girl, whose foreign accent and titled fiancé had, in the language of the day, "got her father's goat." Her father determined to rid her of her "up-stage" and haughty mannerisms and above all get rid of the man who had seduced her, so he wrote to his friend out west, who sent him a rough-mannered and ill-bred cowboy. On some excuse, and got his daughter and the young cowboy to take an ocean trip together. All would have been well, if a storm hadn't come up which wrecked the boat and cast the two social extremes on a deserted island.

Here's a great situation for a novel. She's a high-browed, high temperamental society snob—and he's a rough westerner with as much use for manners as an Eskimo has use for bathing suits. But really it's right here where the story begins. Of course, in spite of everything they fall in love—and no that's not the end by any means. The titled "Piscon" not wishing to see American millions slipping away from him so easily—"pulls" a revenue stunt and kidnaps the girl and then the excitement is on in real earnest. You'll enjoy "Conquering the Woman," it's an entertaining, clean and wholesome picture.

On the same program "Hidden Gold," a strong western melodrama with Ray Gallagher and Alma Bennett as the two leading stars. It is replete with thrilling adventures and action. A Spaulding comedy and a new Fox News are also included in the program.

THE STRAND

There are many excellent points about "During Youth," the feature attraction on The Strand bill during the week-end. The outstanding ones are a light, breezy story along novel lines and an excellent cast headed by Bobe Dan-ols and Norman Kerry and Lee Moran. The story finds its origin in the

Has Your Husband Got Indigestion?

Nothing creates domestic discord quicker than an attack of indigestion, and nothing gets rid of indigestion quicker than Bisulphate of Magnesia. No man can be sweet tempered, good natured or even fair minded when his stomach is constantly sick, sour, gassy, and upset with after-eating distress. If your husband has stomach trouble neither scold nor play him, but help him by seeing that he has a supply of Bisulphate of Magnesia (either powder or tablets) constantly at hand. A teaspoonful of powder or two tablets taken in a little water after meals will instantly neutralize the acids in his stomach that are causing his trouble and he can enjoy his meals with no more fear of indigestion. Bisulphate of Magnesia is the special form of Magnesia used by thousands to neutralize stomach acidity and quickly overcome indigestion. Do not confuse with Milk, Carbonate, Bismuth or Citrate of Magnesia. Bisulphate of Magnesia is safe, prompt and sure and it can be obtained at small cost from any reliable drug store.—Adv.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A few drops of "Outgrows" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so tapers the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

"Outgrows" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.—Adv.

Positive Relief from Indigestion

Why suffer longer from indigestion when The Fruit Treatment will bring you prompt and permanent relief!

The original cause of indigestion is Constipation. When the bowels and kidneys do not regularly carry away the waste matters from the system, the blood becomes sluggish, impure and incapable of supplying the stomach with the gastric juice (or Dissolving Fluid) which is the most essential factor in the digestive process. Indigestion and Dyspepsia naturally follow.

Remove the cause and the complaint vanishes. "Fruit-a-tives" made from intensified fruit juices and tonics, is the finest agent in the world for restoring bowels and kidneys to their normal action. Get a box from your druggist today and say goodbye to your indigestion forever.

her accepted suitor, John Campbell, he naturally rejects it, but thinks better of it later. They are married and the game of seek and be sought begins. Campbell is constantly trying to find his wife by his side while she, mindful of the arrangements, feels free to mingle with other companions. Finally, in desperation to discover whether or not his wife really loves him, he arranges with a friend to seek her companionship. The attempt meets the fate they deserve; but it brings about an astounding and amusing climax that shatters this artificial relationship and puts their marriage on a sound basis. Herbert Hawthorn and Alice Lake are most entertaining in "The Dancing Cheat." It's an adaptation from the Saturday Evening Post story, "Clay of Collins," by Raymond Shrook. It's the story of a man of southern breeding, bred with the ideals that prevailed in the old days of southern aristocracy, who leaves his ancestral acres in quest of greater fortune. He falls in love with a woman who is of a social sphere foreign to anything he has known before. The love is returned, but the woman is forced by a blackmailing husband to add him in plotting against the man she loves, and the man believes that he has been made the tool of a woman's duplicity.

H. F. KETTER'S THEATRE
There are many good things on the present week's bill at the H. F. Ketter theatre, but perhaps the greatest interest centres in Miss Teria, the prime European mystery which has been included in the week's lineup. Miss Teria will mystify you. It talks like a human being, plays musical instruments, picks out cards and does many other things that a woman who looks like her can't do. There are two prizes offered to the fortunate guessers. The first prize is a very high grade, King and Lewis, in "Glen Town Diamonds" supply one of the very best of blackface comedies, and Ed. Lewis is a star actor and a very funny man. Other points about the bill of merit are Newman and Mehan, in comedy, singing and dancing, and Downey and Charles in many snapshots. The picture feature is "Innocence," with Anna Q. Nilsson and a great cast.

MERIDICK SQUARE THEATRE
"The Fighting Coward," produced by the man who made "The Covered Wagon," James Cruze, and featuring Ernest Torrence, Mary Astor, Noah Berry, Phyllis Haver and Ellen Lan- dis is the feature attraction of the current program at the Meridick Square theatre.

It's a story of a man and a young fellow who bluff everyone along. In the end, the idea here is to convince folks that the youngster is about the most dangerous gun-fighter thereabouts, and the whole thing is just one long thrill.

Other attractions include "The Love Trap," a romance of present-day life, with an all-star cast; a comedy, "Hollywood Round," the latest International News and an episode of the Boston Post price reel.

Beginning Sunday the feature attraction will be "Rupert of Hentzau," with the largest cast of real stars ever assembled for a single picture.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Child's Hair With

If you want to keep your children's hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisided coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this cannot possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. Two or three spoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will last for months.

FRECKLES

Now is the time to get rid of these ugly spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any drugstore and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

YES, ERNEST, THEY ARE BEAUTIES!

Ernest Linnekamp, the Viennese artist who came over to paint the portraits of 15 of America's most beautiful women, has finished three of his canvases. Those he selected were Harriet Carnegie (upper left), and Catherine Owen (lower left), both New Yorkers, and Miss Dagmar Godowsky, daughter of Leopold Godowsky. In this picture, Linnekamp is putting the finishing touches on the portrait of Miss Godowsky. The artist regrets he must restrict his choice to 15, for he insists he never has seen so many beautiful women as he has met since his arrival in this country.

OPPOSED TO CROW-SHOOTING DRIVE BY POWDER COMPANY

Department of Agriculture Writes Congressman Rogers Condemning Anti-Crow Campaign Started by a Powder Company

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24.—That the crow-shooting drive now being conducted throughout the country by a powder company is the greatest reactionary step in game conservation since the Migratory Bird treaty act, and a step to spring shooting, is the official opinion of the U. S. department of agriculture, as expressed to Congressman John Jacob Rogers of Massachusetts in a letter made public today.

Ever since the powder concern in question made the first announcement of its anti-crow campaign and offered prizes to hunters bagging the largest number of crows, a battle royal has been waged over the merits and demerits of the drive. Farmers, sportsmen, bird-lovers and ammunition manufacturers have been exceedingly active in denouncing the drive as a pest or a nuisance. The U. S. department of agriculture has now come forward with a statement of its view of the matter, as determined by exhaustive investigation and experiment, showing that in some cases the crow is a benefactor of the farmer and that indiscriminate slaughter is not to be encouraged.

"There is a wide difference, however, between the recommending of control measures in cases where they are actually needed and the urging of an indiscriminate nation-wide campaign against a bird that under some conditions is known to be distinctly beneficial. Aside from the fact that it would mean the killing of birds that may be engaged in activities decidedly beneficial to the farmer, the nation-wide anti-crow campaign presents other objections that must be given serious consideration."

"One of the outstanding objections to such a procedure is the fact that it would place in the field a large number of runners during the spring and summer months when all shooting should cease. There is every reason to believe that many of these hunters, failing to secure a reasonable number of crows, will turn their attentions to other bird life. This is inseparable from human nature and has been recognized in the laws of some of our states which prohibit the carrying of firearms afield outside of the hunting season. To carry out such a campaign during the spring and summer months, I believe, would be the greatest reactionary step in game conservation since the migratory treaty act put a stop to spring shooting."

"You may be interested to know that in your state of Massachusetts the department of agriculture and conservation commission have taken an official stand against this campaign. In Maine, also, Gov. Percival P. Baxter has taken a strong personal stand against it. Furthermore, in some of the states where the crow is less common, it is even afforded complete protection. Such, for instance, is the case in California."

SENATE PASSES BONUS BILL

Vote is 67 to 17—Sufficient to Override Possible Presidential Veto

Bill Now Goes to Conference for Adjustment of Minor Differences

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Advocates of the soldier bonus bill centered their attention today on the White House. Passage of the insurance measure yesterday by the senate in substantially the same form as approved by the house left only minor differences between the chambers for adjustment in conference and it is expected to be ready soon for President Coolidge's consideration.

No word on the subject of bonus legislation has come from the president since his message to congress. He declared against a bonus at that time, but it has been predicted in some quarters recently that he might approve the insurance plan. At the same time, confidence that even if he should disapprove it, sufficient votes were assured in both the house and senate to override a veto.

The bill was passed by the senate yesterday 67 to 17 and the vote in the house was 355 to 54, much more than the necessary two-thirds majority required to pass a measure over a veto. Senate republican leaders, including Senators Lodge, Massachusetts, the floor leader, Curtis, Kansas, sponsor for the bill, Watson, Indiana, and Willis, Ohio, also have declared they would vote to override a veto of the insurance measure.

Although the bill, providing for cash payments to veterans not entitled to more than $50 in adjusted service compensation, and 20-year endowment insurance policies to others, was supported by the American Legion, senate democrats gave notice yesterday they would renew their fight for full cash payments in the next congress.

On the final vote on the bill, nine democrats and eight republicans opposed it, while 33 republicans, 32 democrats and the two Farmer-Labor senators supported it.

The roll call follows: For the bonus: Republicans—Brandages, Brodhead, Bussan, Cameron, Capper, Velt, Cummings, Curtis, Dale, Gilman, Fess, Fraser, Gooding, Hale, Howell, Jones of Washington, Keyes, Ladd, Lodge, McCormick, McKinley, McLean, McNary, Norbeck, Norris, Oddie, Phipps, Shortridge, Spencer, Stanfield, Sterling, Warren and Willis—23.

Democrats—Adams, Ashurst, Broussard, Faraway, Copeland, Ferris, Fletcher, George, Gerry, Harris, Harrison, Heflin, Jones of New Mexico, Kendrick, McKellar, Mayfield, Neely, Overman, Owen, Pittman, Ralston, Randall, Sheppard, Simmons, Dill, Smith, Stanley, Stephens, Trammell, Walsh of Massachusetts—32.

Farmer Labor—Johnson of Minnesota and Shipstead—two.

Against the bonus: Republicans—Ball, Borah, Edge, Ernst, Fernald, Pepper, Smart and Wadsworth—eight.

Democrats—Hayard, Bruce, Dial, Edwards, Glass, King, Shields, Swanson and Underwood—nine.

Of the 12 senators absent, four were paired for the bill with four absent, and four were without pairs. Those paired were: Leonard for with Reed of Pennsylvania, against; Coughens for, with Weller against; Watson for, with Greene against; Johnson of California, for, with Mason against.

Senators Robinson, Reed of Missouri, and Harrell were announced as in favor of the measure, while no announcement was made as to Senator La Follette's position. Six senators who voted against the bill voted in favor of the cash option feature. They were Borah, republican, and Dial, Glass, King, Swanson and Underwood, democrats.

FOUR DAYS' RETREAT A four days' retreat is being conducted at the Chelmsford street hospital by members of the Oblate Order. The retreat opened with solemn mass this morning. The prayer, sermon and benediction will be in order tonight. Young women of the Sacred Heart parish have arranged to furnish the musical program in connection with the retreat.

Joseph P. Clark, who was arrested by Lieut. Patrick Frawley and Officer Thomas Maloney on a charge of unlawfully possessing a revolver, pleaded not guilty to that charge in district court today and was continued until tomorrow, when two new witnesses will be called to testify by defendant's counsel, Joseph P. Donahue.

Lieut. Frawley stated on the stand this morning that he found Clark in a house in Howe street on the evening of April 21, and that the young man had an unloaded revolver in his hip pocket. When questioned as to the ownership of the gun, Clark said it belonged to the tenant in the house. A woman testifying for the government said Clark put the gun to her breast in the house and refused to allow her to leave, consenting only when she began to scream.

After his arrest on April 21, Clark was bailed in $500 securities. He was rearrested last night as a suspicious person.

RESTING COMFORTABLY Alex Rovin of 4 Corbett place, who slashed his throat with a razor in his home Monday evening, is reported today to be resting comfortably at St. John's hospital.

FIRST DANCE BY LOCAL MASONIC LODGES

Great expectations have the way for a notable social event in the history of Lowell fraternal organizations, when the four combined Masonic lodges of the city hold their first dance and buffet luncheon in Memorial Auditorium tomorrow evening, April 27. Directors of this April social event are delighted with the response that has come from widespread appeals issued to promote this inaugural affair that has so many promising features in both a fraternal and social way, the sponsors believe. Tomorrow night's

"first of its kind" in local Masonic circles has been arranged for the pleasure of both Masons and their friends.

Attractive musical features are provided for the inaugural, the disciplinary music committee being fortunate in securing the services of the famous Chase players of Swampscott. There will be a concert from 8 to 9 o'clock and dancing from 9 until 1 a. m. The buffet luncheon will be served in library hall.

DISHCLOTHS Dishcloths and washcloths should have a soft, spongy weave, so as to hold water easily or be wrung dry.

KILLED IN COLLISION EARLY NEWS FLASHES BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dr. Helfferich, German Financial Expert, and His Aunt Victims at Bellinzona

BERNE, Switzerland, April 24. (By the Associated Press.)—Dr. Karl Helfferich, eminent German financial authority, and his aunt were among those killed in the collision of two express trains, near Bellinzona, yesterday.

Death Confirmed BERLIN, April 24. (By the Associated Press.)—The death of Dr. Karl Helfferich, German nationalist leader and former vice chancellor, in the train wreck at Bellinzona, yesterday, is confirmed in an official dispatch from the German consul at Lugano.

Dr. Helfferich's aunt was also killed. The consul's dispatch says the identification papers of Helfferich were found among the remains of the wreck victims.

Dr. Helfferich, who was stopping at the private villa of his father-in-law in Lake Maggiore, was booked to begin a series of campaign speeches in Germany last night, in aid of the nationalist cause.

Dr. Helfferich and his aunt were in the German car in the train from Italy. This car was destroyed and the half-combusted bodies in it were identified today.

Dr. Karl Theodor Helfferich, financier and statesman, held many important government posts, including the posts of ambassador in Russia, secretary of the interior, vice chancellor and director of the Reichsbank. In January, 1913, during the war, he became minister of the treasury and was in charge of the German war loans for the successful flotation of which he earned the thanks of the Kaiser, who bestowed the iron cross upon him.

After the war, as a member of the Reichstag, he actively opposed any government whose policy it was to pay reparations. He came out in opposition to the report of the reparations experts under Brigadier General Dawes because the plan embodied in the report, he claimed, was too severe for Germany to assume.

Dr. Schuchert Not Victim BERLIN, April 24. (By the Associated Press.)—The report that Dr. Hermann Schuchert, president of the German Reichsbank, was one of those killed in the wreck at Bellinzona, is unfounded. Dr. Schuchert is at present in Berlin.

PRE-WEDDING SHOWER FOR MISS NERNEY Miss Marion F. Nerney, a popular young woman of Centralville, was on Tuesday evening tendered a miscellaneous shower at the home of her friend in Dana street. Miss Nerney, who is to become the bride of Mr. John H. Barrett, a popular resident of the Aere district, was the recipient of gifts of silverware, linen, cut-glass and aluminum. Her fellow-workers presented her a beautiful arm-chair. A mock marriage was the feature of the evening in which Miss Mary Bray, Miss Mary Martin and Miss Mary Lewis participated. A fine musical program including vocal selections by Mrs. Arthur Cantora, Mrs. John Keefe and Miss Jeanne Martin; instrumental numbers by Miss Alice Curley, Miss Marion Nerney and Mrs. Anthony McDermott, was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Joseph Nerney, Miss Alice Whitehead, Miss Sadie Cornell and Miss Margaret Nerney.

The latest estimate of the casualties from the collision of the Zurich and Milan express trains, near here yesterday, gives the dead as 13, including five members of the engine crews and eight passengers.

Two mechanicals and two train handmen were seriously injured. Four passengers suffered injuries which it is believed will not prove fatal. The bodies recovered from one of the cars were so badly burned as to be unrecognizable.

WILD BIRDS TAKE TO TAME LIFE

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24.—A forest ranger in Glacier National park is experimenting with the birds of the wilds by building houses for them to see whether they are susceptible to the influence of civilization.

He finds they are. They seem to take in added comforts of life just like anything else. The first bird apartment house set up last spring was built in a cedar tree on a mountain slope near Glacier Park Station, Montana. It has doors that open and there are windows with real glass, besides a porch, chimney and a roof with shingles on it. Three families of blue birds lived in the house last summer. According to the unwritten laws of "bird-dom" these same families will occupy the house again during the coming summer.

JOHNSON BILL DEBATED

Lawrence Debating Team
Gets Decision Over Lowell
High in Coburn Hall

That the Johnson bill for the restriction of immigration in its original form should not be passed, was the decision of three capable judges at the Annual Debate in Coburn hall last night between Lowell and Lawrence high schools debating teams after the Lawrence team, on the negative side, had countered successfully arguments in favor of the bill presented by the Lowell team and in addition had brought forth an alternative plan which came as a considerable surprise to the local team.

The decision of the judges, Orel Dean, Wilfred Walker and Arthur Ray, all of Woburn, was made without conference and by ballot immediately following the last speaker in rebuttal and it met with general favor among those present for, while the Lowell team had done very well, it was considerably easier to argue against the bill, which is considered by many un-American, than it was to provide arguments in its favor.

of the regiment; and Alpheus Achin, class president; with Morris Klegerman as alternate.

The affair was one of the most colorful of the school year. The stage was decorated on one side with streamers of blue and white, the Lawrence colors, in trellis formation with a blue "L" superimposed; while the other side was decorated in the same manner in red and white, Lowell's colors.

Prior to the debate a number of selections were played by the school band under the direction of John J. Gilbin, and while the teams marched to their places on the stage, Miss Queensa Douglas sang first the Lawrence song and then the Lowell song. As the debaters reached the stage, two blue candles were lighted on the Lawrence table and two red candles on the Lowell table.

Supt. of Schools Hugh J. Molloy was chairman and the timers were Gerald Hennessey for Lowell and Maurice Tawch for Lawrence. Mr. Molloy opened the debate at 8:15 o'clock and introduced the first speaker for the affirmative, Amos Fleming. He brought out in favor of the Johnson bill the fact that it would prevent crowding of Ellis Island, ship racing and the breaking up of families and that further it placed the burden of proof upon the alien. It would further, he said, exclude the Japanese and others ineligible to citizenship and would keep America for Americans.

Edward Altman of Lawrence was the first speaker for the negative and his team would attempt to prove the bill unjust from ethical, political and economic standpoints. The high light of his argument was the statement that the bill "shows unjust discrimination against certain nations and certain religious, places the Italians on a lower scale than the English and German, and raises barriers against those of Catholic and Jewish faith; all in accord with the tenets of the Ku Klux Klan."

Merrill Calkins followed for Lowell and he took the stand that the negative was defending the immigrant and he would speak for those already in this country. He said, "The mills are dull many are out of work, and some lay the blame on the influx of soldiers into civil life at the close of the war. This is true, he said, but the reason is that during the war many aliens in this country pleaded exemption and got all the good jobs there were."

The principal opponents of the bill, claimed, are the big industrial men who desire a large surplus of labor in the country so that wages may be kept at the lowest possible point.

Alexander Penn of Lawrence then undertook to prove the deficiencies of the bill from the political standpoint. Its passage, he said, would strain friendly relations with several governments for both Italy and Japan had already objected and others would follow. Immigration, he said in conclusion, make good citizens if the people of this country take a little interest in them.

The final speaker for Lawrence was Clemens Emmett. A finished orator, though only a school boy, he presented economic reasons for opposition to the bill in a splendid manner and, in fact, won for Lawrence in presenting handicapped by the fact that the two Lawrence speakers had outpointed the Lowell boys in arguments, he swung the balance to the side of Lowell by his masterly presentation of arguments from the American standpoint. "America is sick, its legislators admit it is sick, and the remedy is the Johnson bill. This bill is not for discrimination, as my opponents claim, but for equalization."

as an alternative to the Johnson bill, a bill providing for immigration restriction on the basis of the 1920 census, allowing 10 per cent plus 128 of the number in this country from each foreign land who have become naturalized.

Following a fifteen minute recess, the rebuttal was given by Edward Altman for the negative and Merrill Calkins for the affirmative and was followed immediately by the judges' decision. During the intermission, Miss Ruth Boulger, accompanied on the piano by Miss Ruth Boulger, gave several solos and after the rebuttal, general dancing was enjoyed until 11 o'clock.

Officers of the girls' battalion ushered during the evening.

be represented at the carnival, this and now the secret is out. They were going to be on the sidelines on the days of the meet, even if they had to walk to get there. They may have to walk part of the way, at that, although faith in their flivver is intense.

They slipped out of the city on the Chelmsford road before the milkmen began distributing the bottles this morning and by the time you read this, Mr. and Mrs. Reader, they will be somewhere between Manhattan Transfer and West Philadelphia. If locomotion continues, but if it does not, you can imagine them between Littleton depot and Shirley, but still heading south.

Stack and Willard will split each other at the wheel on the trip, each planning a stretch of four hours and then a relief of four.

Sleep? Not for those babies. They figure the school is on spring vacation all next week and they will have seven long days to snore time away. But they will be at the meet you can bet on that and they will make their presence heard.

Willard undoubtedly would have been taken along as a relay runner if his one had allowed it, but unfortunately for him he passed the scheduled limit on his last birthday anniversary.

REDMOND CO. HEAD JAILED FOR CONTEMPT

BOSTON, April 22.—James S. Lamont, president of G. H. Redmond Co., Inc., investment brokers, a firm recently closed by federal injunction and now under receivership, was ordered committed to jail by Judge Morton in federal district court late yesterday for "willfully, deliberately and contemptuously disobeying the court's direction to deliver certain books and $10,000 worth of securities to the receivers."

Evidence regarding Lamont's alleged possession of books and securities required by the receivers for the Redmond company was given at the hearing. As former employees of the firm, according to this testimony, Lamont, on the night of March 1, ordered that four stock books and two large volumes, called "in and out" books, showing all securities which came into or left the company's possession, be left out of the safe.

An elevator man testified that late on the night of March 1, Lamont's chauffeur carried away two big suitcases and several boxes. Lamont himself admitted on the witness stand that on the same day he took from a stock clerk $10,000 in Liberty bonds and securities of public service corporations, giving the clerk a receipt signed "J. S. Lamont."

TO WIPE OUT EVILS OF CHILD LABOR IN U. S.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 24.—Federal cooperation with the states is necessary to wipe out the evils of child labor in the United States, Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the United States children's bureau, declared before the child welfare conference here today. After nearly a century of state legislation, Miss Abbott said, the census of 1920 showed more than 1,000,000 children between the ages of 10 and 18 employed.

SPIRITUAL NEGLECT IS GREATEST PERIL

CHICAGO, April 24.—The spiritual neglect of childhood is America's greatest peril, speakers warned today before the annual meeting of the board of national missions of the Presbyterian church, in urging support of a national program of religious education.

"Spiritual illiteracy is the forerunner of moral bankruptcy and national decay," said the report of the board, submitted by Dr. John McDowell of New York. Approximately 27,000,000 children and young people in America are without church or Sunday school contacts and receive no formal or systematic religious training, the report cited.

36 ACTIVE BISHOPS REPORT WORK OF

EAST NORTHFIELD, April 24.—The Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, who are in conference here to make arrangements for the quadrennial conference to be held in Springfield, next month, today considered in executive session the draft of the Episcopal address prepared by Bishop Joseph F. Herr of Philadelphia, to be delivered by him at the general conference. This task is expected to take two days more, for it will be read and revised in detail. It constitutes a report of the stewardship of the

FAVOR McNARY-HAUGEN AGRICULTURAL BILL

WASHINGTON, April 24.—By a vote of 14 to 6, the house agriculture committee today reported the McNary-Haugen agricultural export bill.

Unsuccessful efforts were made to substitute other measures for the proposal. By a vote of 16 to 4, the committee rejected the Norris-Sinclair bill and voted down 16 to 2, the Voigt bill, which would set up a corporation to sell wheat abroad. The so-called Yankum plan, as embodied in the Aswell bill, was turned down by a viva voce vote.

The McNary-Haugen measure comes from the committee with number of amendments changing the original provisions sponsored by the department of agriculture.

As reported, it would provide for creation of a corporation with capital of $200,000,000, supplied by the government, to promote the sale abroad of surplus farm products, livestock as well as grain and cotton. Affairs of the corporation would be handled by five directors, one to be the secretary of agriculture and the others to be appointed by the president, who would be required to give representation to all sections of the country.

The corporation would seek to establish prices for various farm products that would bear the same ratio to about 400 basic commodities, as they did during the ten years prior to the World war.

PLAN OLD-FASHIONED FIREMEN'S MUSTER

North Andover citizens, backed by enthusiastic department firemen, veteran hand-tub stalwarts and representatives of the Andover town government, plan to hold an old-fashioned firemen's muster in the north section of the town sometime in July or August. Tonight, in the North Andover central fire station, muster committees, recently selected, will meet to choose a date and draw up preliminary programs.

The citizens' committee are planning to give the people of Andover and the county at large a real firemen's muster of no small size, first meet on the night of April 22, with Andover Veteran Firemen's association leading the way. James Smith, a popular member of the latter organization, was chosen chairman of the muster committee and James Daw, of the active department, secretary.

Members of the muster committee include well known fire fighters, old and new, in the Andover district, a few of them being James Hennessey, James Hayes, James Smith, Robert Winning and Herbert Watts of the Veterans Firemen's association; James Daw, Alexander McKinnon, Martin Lawlor, William Robert and William Handy of the Andover fire department.

President James H. Walker of the Lowell Veterans Firemen's association said today that the local organization would not enter the Andover muster for there is no tub in Lowell capable of giving any performance worth mentioning. Efforts by the local veterans to purchase a hand-tub this spring for the Lowell veterans' use in the New England muster fields, have thus far failed. The Sun was informed. There is no likelihood now of any machine being purchased this year owing to the early arrival of the firemen's muster season and the lack of sufficient time in which to prepare for any contest of importance.

PLAY PRESENTED IN CHURCH VESTRY

"Three Pigs," an enjoyable three-act comedy was last evening ably presented in the vestry of the Pawtucket Congregational church by members of the Amica class of the church. The play under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Dodge Haskell, dealt with the adventures of a comely young maiden who had to put up with the old-fashioned ideas of her aunt, a superannuated spinster.

During the play and also at the conclusion, refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. George Tanner and Miss Margaret Seaton.

The cast was as follows: "Emily Weston," Ruth Howe; "Aunt Cuphella," Mrs. Francis Mitchell; "Madge," Mrs. Ida E. Armstrong; "Peg," Miss Marjorie P. Pratt; "Sarah," Miss Doris C. Howker; "Lizzie," Miss Mabel G. Armstrong; "Mrs. Condit," Mrs. Helen Howker, and "Mrs. Barclay," Mrs. Anna S. Dunning.

WOMEN PRAISE PRES COOLIDGE'S ADDRESS

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 24.—President Coolidge's reinforcement of the permanent court of international relations in his address at the annual luncheon of The Associated Press in New York, Tuesday, was commended by the board of directors of the National League of Women Voters at its pre-convention session yesterday. A telegram expressing approval of the address, was dispatched to the president by Mrs. Maude Wood Park, president of the national league.

A delegation of national league leaders, headed by Miss Ruth Morgan of New York, will attend a world court hearing before the sub-committee of the senate foreign affairs committee in Washington on April 30, the day after the close of the league's fifth annual convention here.

The league convention was scheduled to begin this afternoon with committee and departmental meetings covering a wide variety of subjects. The directors planned to bring up for action immigration matters heretofore left untouched by the league. Miss Ruth Morgan, chairman of the committee on international co-operation to prevent war, was to present for discussion the recent action of congress in approving the Japanese exclusion act, either in today's committee meeting or in closed session tonight.

FILLING STATION PERMIT

The Guit Refining Co. has applied at the office of the inspector of buildings for a permit to construct a filling station at 595 Gorham street, same to be steam heated and of brick and to cost about $8,000. Three 1,000 gallon tanks are to be a part of the new station, it is proposed.

TO BECOME SUBJECT OF BRITISH AMBASSADOR TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS ADDRESS PUBLISHERS

GENEVA, April 24.—A Chicago man wants to become a subject of the League of Nations. In a letter to the secretary, he chides the league for making no official notice of his previous forwarding of a league anthem and a league flag. He declares that he is a pacifist, against all war, and fighting, and for that reason, insists that he can swear allegiance to no country. But as he cannot live permanently in any country without becoming a citizen he begs for protection of the League of which he desires to become a subject.

The league has made public the letter as an example of the curious appeals reaching Geneva and with the comment that the letter in question has not been answered.

GUILD OF ST. GERTRUDE

The Guild of St. Gertrude is to hold a cake sale tomorrow, at Gagnon's store. The receipts will go toward the fund for a hospital in Maryknoll in China.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Sir Ismael Howard, the British ambassador to Washington, will be the principal speaker at a banquet tonight of the American Newspaper Publishers' association. There will also be a general meeting of the members this afternoon.

Problems in regard to labor had caused the most serious difficulties newspaper publishers encountered during the past year, according to Paul Patterson, association president, in an address made at the opening session of the convention yesterday.

McADOO RAPS WALL STREET

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 24.—William H. McAdoo, speaking in the interest of his candidacy for the democratic nomination for president last night asserted Wall street wants to retain control of the government because it desires to use the funds of the federal treasury.

The banker, he said, would rather control the treasury than any other division of the government.

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not. To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

TAXI ORDINANCE NEEDED

For some time past, there has been much discussion of traffic problems with a view to promoting safety on the public streets and preventing congestion. The taxi service has also been the subject of more or less discussion, and although at the present time, several of the taxi companies are giving as good service as they possibly can, yet there is urgent need of a city ordinance to regulate this business throughout the city.

In the first place, it is necessary to have a provision that every taxi company shall be licensed as such by some municipal authority. There should be further provision made under which the company doing a taxi business in Lowell, should carry liability insurance for the protection of their passengers, or any person they may run into on the streets. Such regulations would make for greater public safety and more efficient service.

The business is comparatively new in this city, and that is why there is no ordinance adopted for its regulation. It is expected, however, that an ordinance along the lines here suggested will be provided in the near future, so that all those who enter the business, will have to follow strict rules or pay the penalty by being driven out of the business.

THAT TRUNK SEWER PROBLEM

City Engineer Kearney is right when he says that the trunk sewer scheme would bankrupt the cities and towns of the Merrimack Valley without bringing them any practical return. Anybody who passes down the valley to the beach and views the numerous hills that will have to be cut through in laying a sewer, graded so as to carry the contents by gravity, will readily realize how vastly expensive such a project would be. That problem should be allowed to rest at least until the arrival of more prosperous times. Moreover, the state of New Hampshire has not joined in the undertaking and until it does, there is no use in talking of clearing the river of pollution.

PLANT A GARDEN

This is the season when a great many people hear the call of Nature, which is answered sometimes by a stroll in the wood, at others by long auto rides, but never more profitably than by planting a garden.

This affords the greatest pleasure in springtime and moreover, it is the healthiest kind of exercise for those who need a spring tonic. Evidently, Nature intended most people to till the soil and grow a part of their food supply, but unfortunately, the tendencies of modern life are all in the opposite direction.

The person who plants a garden, and takes a real interest in the work, finds joy in watching the gradual growth of plant life from the seed in the soil, all through the various stages of development to the bloom and blossom of the grown plant. The home garden is alike a source of edification and education. The constant battle with weeds and insects is as fascinating a game as the struggle for success and against failure in the battle of making a living.

For some, the work of cultivating a garden, is the most enjoyable kind of sport. Doubtless there are many who would undertake the planting of a little garden, if they only knew how. Those who do not know, can easily learn. The art is simple, but the laws of Nature, here as in other matters, are inexorable. Recently, Congressman Rogers, sent to his constituents a list of publications dealing with gardening and a vast variety of other domestic problems. The list contains several pamphlets dealing with the cultivation of flowers and vegetables that can be had free of charge on application.

The cultivation of a garden, will impress children very forcibly with the fact that Nature makes man pay the full price for every joy, every folly, and every act of neglect, and that while effort is occasionally futile, it usually brings satisfactory returns, as shown by the law of averages. The home garden, is one of the things that connects the city child with country life and brings him in close contact with Nature and the laws, a universal source of education that should not be neglected.

ATTACKING VOLSTEAD LAW

It required real courage on the part of a clergyman, Rev. Roland W. Sawyer of Ware, to go before the house judiciary committee of congress and advocate a modification of the Volstead law so as to legalize 2.75 per cent. beer on the ground that the present law is fatalistic and non-enforceable.

It may not be quite clear how such an attitude may be taken by a man who is a strong advocate of prohibition. His argument is, that the people respect prohibition in the general sense, but show only contempt for the Volstead law.

He cited conditions in Haverhill, Brockton and Ware to show that the business of manufacturing liquor has been driven into the homes, and that as a result the consequences, so far from being beneficial, are quite the contrary. He said the law is unworkable, and in that his statement is largely borne out by conditions all over the country.

Yet the speaker favors not the return of the saloon, not the restoration of liquor-drinking, but an enforcement law that will command respect and put an end to home brewing and the growing business of bootlegging.

Rev. Mr. Sawyer is a member of the Massachusetts legislature and a man of wide experience in such matters. He certainly has the courage of his convictions, and in what he said he undoubtedly voiced the views of a very large section of the people who, while firmly standing for the 18th amendment, think the Volstead law too extreme in its provisions.

AS TO ROMANCE

Mechanical progress is daily removing the old forms of romance as we have known them in our early youth and in the story books of past generations. At the present time, the means of communication have practically overcome the former methods adopted to prevent young people from holding conversations or communication at a distance. The polar explorer, who was formerly isolated in the Arctic blizzards, with his fate unknown, had an opportunity to emerge as a hero; but now, he is connected by radio with a broadcasting station in Chicago and so does every lunatic.

The galloping pony express rider who was heavily armed against desperadoes, has been displaced by a safe in the steel railroad car. The lover who used to bring flowers to his sweetheart from the woods or his mother's garden, now buys them from a florist; or, he may order them by phone and have a boy deliver them. Instead of playing the part of Romeo in person, there was a time when the ardent wooer was expected to fight and defeat all rivals, usually in a duel at sunrise, somewhere in the suburbs. That custom still prevails in fiction. But it occurred in real life, the police would soon load the combatants into the patrol wagon, and they would appear on the charge of disturbing the peace. Invention has changed many of the settings of romance as it was formerly known; but sentiment is as strong as ever, and that is what counts.

As long as science is unable to eliminate moonlight, romance will survive. Formerly a moonlight sail in a canoe or rowboat, was quite fascinating; but that has been displaced by a spin in an auto along a smooth paved road. This is, indeed, thrilling and perhaps quite as romantic as was the sleigh ride of old. But, of course, it is assumed that the gentle lady knows with whom she is riding, as the experience of some of the giddy ones, in accepting such invitations from strangers, has been destructive of all the romantic features and occasionally also of the lives of the romancers.

MARTIN CONWAY'S DEATH

To the thousands of Lowell residents who were acquainted with the late Deputy Sheriff Martin Conway, the news of his sudden death will be a source of deep sorrow. Mr. Conway, in every position he had occupied, made warm friendships by his affable manner, his kindly nature and genuine humor. The profound sympathy of his host of Lowell friends goes out to his bereaved family.

The second letter of the Japanese ambassador has tended to conciliate the feeling aroused in the senate by his first note. It is predicted that if the bill is presented to President Coolidge, in its present form, he will veto it. It is doubtful whether congress would pass the measure containing the Japanese exclusion clause over the presidential veto. There is a movement on foot to modify the bill so as to allow the gentleman's agreement to remain undisturbed.

It seemed like the irony of fate that an eight-year-old boy should leave a school lecture on the prevention of accidents and be killed by a truck on the streets a few minutes later. That was what happened little Donald P. Mason, of Medford. It is supposed that he tried to jump on a passing truck and was thrown beneath the wheels. Similar accidents are of daily occurrence. Of what use is instruction if it is not obeyed?

And now the fire department motor apparatus is to be standardized on the White basis, as Chief Saunders advocated. The idea of standardized motor vehicles has its merits despite the fact that it excludes competition.

Ex-Attorney General Taft's death seems more ridiculous than ever in trying to connect Senators Wheeler and Brookhart with the Russian communists.

Senator Copeland applied the bonus being on his democratic colleagues in the senate, but candidates for the presidency must do something to attract attention.

The Board of Public Service is pushing the work of cleaning the streets of the winter debris. It is well to have it done before the hot weather comes.

At last the bonus bill is passed, and it remains to be seen whether in this the republicans are merely passing the buck to the president.

Lowell's young athletes can win distinction if they are backed by the public.

Now's the time to boost the movement for a cinder track at Alumni field.

It is the last syllable in Vanderlip's name that seems to be getting him into trouble.

Harry K. Thaw thinks he is sane, so does every lunatic.

Baking sugar soaked in perfume is a fad with Middletown (N. Y.) girls, the sweet things.

A Thought

Kindness is virtue itself.—Lamartine.

Yes, Wouldn't It?

A man from Kentucky was in the state house recently on a sight-seeing tour conducted by a city friend. When he saw the rotunda surrounded by the huge blue dome he gazed at it nervously for a moment and then remarked: "Gosh! Wouldn't that hold a lot of hay?"—Indianapolis News.

Safety First

It was on the old camping ground, "Pass do hat," suggested a Bradford Wheeler. But the person raised his hand. "No, sah," he shouted, "dere'll be no hat about it. Pass a tin box with a chain to it. De last time a hat was passed around here, it neva' came back, and I had to go home bareheaded."—Atlantic Constitution.

Second Chance

"Do I understand you to say that you will sell this $700 dining-room set on the installment plan for only $5 down and $3 a week?" "That's the offer," "Why, man, by the time it was paid for it would be old and worn out." "Yes, I know. But then you could sell it for a genuine antique."—Judge.

Sea In Distress

Everything had gone well with the newlywed couple. Directly after their honeymoon, they had taken rooms in a hotel and so they had no housekeeping worries to mar their happiness. Disillusionment came when they took a furnished house at a seaside town, sweet young Angelica undertaking to look after the cooking. It was far from being a success. The pastry was always as hard as a brick and the pudding—well, one day they had a picnic on the seashore, and were watching the waves, when Angelica exclaimed dramatically: "How the sea moans!" "No wonder," replied her husband pessimistically. "I have just thrown some of your cake into it."

Tough Old World

"I'm the unluckiest individual under the sun," remarked a clerk to his nearest neighbor. "What's the trouble now?" asked the friend. "I got two certificates from two different doctors yesterday," explained the gloomy one. "One was a certificate of health for a life insurance company, and the other a certificate of illness to be sent to the chief with a petition for a two weeks' holiday." "O, that's nothing," rejoined his fellow clerk. "I've done that, myself." "But I put the certificates in the wrong envelopes. The life insurance company, and the certificate of good health went to the chief. It's a wicked world, isn't it?"

When Things Go Wrong

The man who makes the best of it, when anything goes wrong, deserves to have his praise sung in language plain and strong. He doesn't get dependent when things fail to come his way. But hopes for better fortune when things come another day. He simply takes what comes to him, and makes the best of it. Resisting the temptation to throw up his hands and quit.

He gets a lot of credit, but no more he deserves. For failure in endeavor is most trying to the nerves. But being gloomy when you're beaten doesn't help a bit.

And so we like to see the man who makes the best of it. But the person we admire, and behold with keen delight, is the one who when things have gone wrong sets out to set them right!—SOMERVILLE JOURNAL.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Department stores will feature standard brands of cotton goods in their advertising during the week of April 23 to May 3, which will be observed as "National Gingham Week."

I can't help but wonder when the telephone company will pay a little more attention to the pay station booths over the city and equip them with up-to-date phone directories. Today, at most booths, you find either directories of the April, 1923, vintage or none at all.

During the first 15 days in August, the 25th Field Artillery Reserve will be at Camp Devens. This unit is a part of the XI Army Corps with headquarters in this city. Former service men are eligible to join this unit and their grade as provided in the Regular Army pay tables. The 25th F.A.R. is a motorized 6-inch howitzer outfit and Battery B at this time is said to have the best strength. W. H. Quinn, of the post and prospective members can reach him at that address or through Major Tooley who maintains an office in the Hildreth building. Several non-commissioned grades in the company are still vacant and there is a fine opportunity for former service men with good records to sign up as section sergeants, chauffeurs, motorcycle dispatch riders, clerks and staid duty non-coms.

Easterinery has been kept pretty busy in the closet ever since the sun came. Easter dawned a beautiful and promising day but noon found the skies overcast and rain fell in a goodly quantity before mid-afternoon. Monday and Tuesday were far from pleasing to those who would disport their sleeves in their new wardrobe. Next Sunday should the weather be fair, probably see the real Easter parade, a bit belated yet nevertheless as colorful as of old.

One thing noticeable at the churches Sunday was the profusion of flowers. Women worshippers were bedecked with the most colorful and pleasing bouquets. Florists reported an unusually heavy business while on all specially heavy business.

The LADY OF THE HOUSE

Hal Cochran's DAILY POEM

Trim as a dove and the essence of love is the lady I'm thinking of now. Auburn her hair and her cheeks are quite fair; there's innocent youth on her brow.

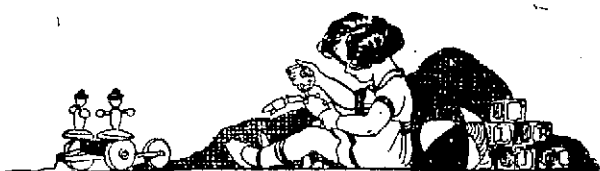

Really, my guess is that all of her dresses, that barely come down to her knees, are the last word in dash and were made by Dame Fashion especially for her, if you please.

She's haughty, this mite, through the day and night and she talks with an air of command. With every expression we call it discretion to indicate we understand.

A blossom of youth but, to tell you the truth, this tiny mite fair is a terror. At rest or at play, well, she has her own way and maybe her training's an error.

But why should we worry, there's really no hurry. Let youth have its playtime and then, if she gets to be bolder, why, shucks, when she's older, we'll train her all over again.

THREE FIRE ALARMS THIS MORNING

A telephone alarm at 8:05 this morning, followed by a bell alarm at 8:07 from box 87, summoned fire apparatus to the home of Clarence E. Nelson at 21 Mansur street where a roof fire was in progress. The fire was quickly extinguished.

At 6:27 o'clock this morning a telephone alarm summoned apparatus to Railroad street where a truck owned by a man giving the name of Dobbstrom was on fire. The blaze was confined to the seat of the truck and damage was slight.

A minor roof fire at 8:58 o'clock resulted in a telephone alarm and this was quickly extinguished before any considerable damage was done.

FOURTH LECTURE ON THE CONSTITUTION

The fourth in the series of lectures on the constitution in the K. of C. course will be delivered this evening by Joseph D. Quinn, a prominent member of Lowell council. His subject will be "The Constitution of the President." The lecture will be given at the conclusion of the regular business meeting, which starts promptly at 7:45 o'clock.

ANONYMOUS LETTERS

During the past two weeks, Supt. Thomas J. Sawyer of the Street Rail way company has received several anonymous letters complaining service complaints and wishes to state that such letters, if they concern operators, are given the treatment all anonymous letters deserve—they are thrown in the waste basket and no investigation made. If anyone in the city desires to make a complaint, he said, all they have to do is send him a person or write a letter and sign their name. Such complaints will be investigated and the person making the complaint notified of the result of the investigation.

QUARTERLY "ROLL OF HONOR"

The quarterly "roll of honor," containing the names of 84 operators, conductors and motormen, was hung in the office and lobby of the local division of the street railway company today. The men whose names appear on the honor roll have not been involved in any accident during the three months ending March 31, 1924, which could be attributed to negligence on their part.

BROCKTON, April 24—Valentin Tremolite, 38, of 412 North Main street, charged with assault with intent to kill and assault with a dangerous weapon, a razor, was held in $500 bonds in district court today. It is alleged he attacked Mrs. Lilla Steavor, 32, of 105 Lyman street. Although badly cut, her condition is not serious. Police declare unequipped love prompted the man's act.

WATCH THE HUMIDITY

The only time that Mr. Mann of Anytown interested himself in the temperature was when it fell to 10 below zero in February and jumped to 101 in July.

When he felt chilly in the sitting room at home, he never stopped to reason whether his own state of health or the heating arrangement was to blame. He took it for granted it was the furnace. And meanwhile the thermometer lay in the gutter.

Like most people, the word humidity was a word and nothing else. Yet a lack of humidity causes ill health, coughs, general discomfort and many diseases of the mucous membrane.

If a room at 65 degrees isn't warm enough for the occupant, it's not the heat, but the humidity, and water should be evaporated to bring the moisture up. In other words, it's water, rather than coal, that is needed. And water is cheaper.

When you think of temperature—think of humidity as well.

Drive the INDICAN Out of Your System

—the Danger Sign of Constipation

WARNING: INDICAN shows that your blood is clogged with toxic poisons, due to constipation. Any day these may result in severe breakdown and disease. They often lead to rheumatism and heart and lung affections.

Whether you are constipated or not, every man and woman should immediately make this test to guard his health:

Have an analysis made of your specimen, and if the chemist reports the presence of INDICAN—or if you can "feel" how poisoned you are because of headache, sallow complexion, no appetite and bad stomach—immediately start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills. Next, have another test made and see how the INDICAN disappears. With freedom from constipation poisons, come freedom from complexion blemishes—you eat well, sleep well, and feel fit, in most cases.

Note: Carter's Little Liver Pills, used for 67 years by millions of people all over the world, is a purely vegetable preparation and contains no drugs of any nature. It therefore acts in a natural way and is not habit-forming. Money refunded if results are not satisfactory.

THE TEST
Doctors find that many "run down" nervous people simply are "clogged" with constipation poisons, as indicated by the INDICAN TEST.

Here is the same person after a few days' treatment by Carter's Little Liver Pills—the clean, normal specimen, FREE FROM INDICAN.

ENTERTAINMENT IN NEW PARISH HOUSE

"The Butlers," an entertaining comedy of modern life, was staged last night by the Christian Endeavor society of the Eliot Union church in the new parish house before an audience which taxed the seating capacity of the hall.

The play was under the direction of Miss Edith C. Erskine and she was highly complimented after the presentation for the skillful manner in which it was put over. The staging of the play was also very well done and was under the direction of Alvin Sykes and Carl Carlson.

During the intermission between acts, candy was sold and Carl Marshall entertained with a number of piano selections. The play will be repeated this evening.

Members of the society taking part in the performance were: Ruth Kleiter, Harriet Myhr, Ellen Silk, Violet Stark, Roy Stark, Marion Howard, Raymond Alden, Everett Farnold and Beatrice Myhr.

STREET LIGHTS BROKEN

Officials of the Lowell Electric Light corporation have complained to the Billerica town authorities, that street lights have been broken along Boston and Turnpike roads frequently. Hoodlums are accused of the depredations. Billerica selectmen say they belong outside of Billerica.

The police have taken steps to eliminate the vandalism. The electric light officials have informed the selectmen that unless the matter is promptly attended to, they will discontinue lights on the roads named.

ELKS HOLD FIRST IN SERIES OF DANCES

Several hundreds of terpsichorean devotees were entertained at Associate hall last night, the occasion being the first of a series of public dances to be given by the Boston convention committee of Lowell Lodge of Elks. The affair started early and lasted until midnight, there being a short intermission for refreshments at 10 o'clock. The Elks-Boyle ten-piece orchestra gave a brief concert program before the start of the dancing. The committee in charge of the affair comprised Michael Markham, chairman; James E. Donnelly, general manager; Bernard B. Moran, floor director; J. J. Gilley, assistant floor director; Fred J. Gilmore, secretary, and James L. Kennedy, treasurer.

Some Families Are Never Ill

FORTUNATE are the children whose parents fully realize the seriousness of constipation. Hospital records prove that 75 per cent of all disease originates in bowel obstruction, or constipation. Young children cry because of it; school children are hampered in their studies; grown people are made 25 per cent less efficient; elderly people's blood pressure increases 28 per cent. Realizing this Mrs. Carrie Moss of 1711 Church st., Lynchburg Va., Mr. Louis C. Grah of 1569 Winton ave., Lakewood, Ohio, and innumerable others, give a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at the first sign of constipation, and have no sickness among their children.

Largest Selling Laxative

Every up-to-date family medicine chest should contain a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and palatable ingredients, a prescription written 30 years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who practiced medicine 47 years. You can buy a bottle in any store where medicines are sold, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. We guarantee that if you will give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to a child or for a few nights to an adult it will relieve any case of constipation no matter how chronic, or your money will be refunded.

10 Million Bottles a Year

Use it once and you will never again take coal-tar drugs in candy form, calomel or salts. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a vegetable laxative free from opiates and narcotics. It can be safely given to infants, yet it effectively moves the bowels of adults. It acts gently; does not cramp or gripe. Keep it in the house and use it for any indication of bowel obstruction such as constipation, biliousness, torpid liver, dyspepsia, pimples and like skin eruptions. Give it early and it will break up a fever or a cold overnight. A spoonful proves it.

SOCIETY TO HELP GRENFELL MISSIONS

The local branch of the New England Grenfell association was organized at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. The officers elected at the session were Miss Florence V. Evans, president; Mrs. E. E. Dunbar, treasurer; Mrs. Lester Armstrong, secretary.

It was voted that the next meeting be held the first Wednesday afternoon in June at 4.15 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A. It was suggested yesterday that a membership campaign be in progress that representatives from all churches in the city might be admitted to the organization, which is an international one. The object of the society is to help the Grenfell missions in Newfoundland and Labrador, where much is being done for the inhabitants, materially and socially. Pamphlets dealing with the work of the organization were distributed and various methods by which the association might lend its aid, were discussed.

Wamsutta Percale sheets washed 100 times show the finely woven texture unbroken after this thorough test. Under the microscope, the threads are still strong, even and uniform.

For three generations the makers of Wamsutta Percale have been proud of the high quality of their sheets. They are no less proud of their durability. But they realize that their sheets must be washed right in order to keep their lustrous finish and give the good service that women have learned to expect from Wamsutta. Read why this long-established mill recommends Rinso, the new kind of soap.

Makers of Wamsutta Percale Sheets recommend Rinso—

The Rinso suds soak dirt out—with this new soap you have no hard rubbing

"After giving Rinso a severe test as a laundry soap for washing Wamsutta Percale we cordially endorse it as an ideal soap for washing our sheets," say the makers of Wamsutta Sheets.

"Rinso soaks out the dirt so thoroughly that no rubbing is necessary. This saves the sheet from a great deal of wear."

"Not only is the life of the fabric lengthened, but we are also convinced that Rinso because of its superior cleansing and rinsing qualities, actually enhances the smooth and beautiful appearance of Wamsutta Percale Sheets."

Washing sheets used to be one of the hardest tasks of washday. You rubbed soap into the sheet and then you rubbed the big, heavy sheet up and down on the washboard to get it clean.

Today you don't have any more of that back-breaking labor. You let the Rinso soap-suds do this hard work for you.

Always use enough Rinso to get big lasting suds after the clothes are in, for the secret of Rinso's wonderful cleansing power lies in these thick rich suds.

How this new soap works: Rinso dissolves instantly and completely in boiling water. This solution makes the water in your tub soapy all through. It soaks dirt out.

Because it is all dissolved Rinso rinses out thoroughly, leaving clothes snowy white. No bits of soap left sticking to garments when you wash with Rinso!

It is a complete soap in itself—it does the whole wash, whatever your washing methods may be. You need no other soap with it.

Everywhere the progressive American woman is using this labor-saving soap. Already more than a million packages are used every week.

Rinso is made by the makers of Lux—the largest soap-makers in the world—to be just as perfect for the family wash as Lux is for fine things.

U. S. Wastes Half of Oil in Ground

THESE PICTURES SHOW HOW KEEN COMPETITION IS IN THE OIL FIELDS. THE TOP SHOWS A FOREST OF DERRICKS IN THE LONG BEACH (CALIF.) DISTRICT. ONE OF THE GREATEST OIL FIELDS IN THE COUNTRY. THE BOTTOM ONE GIVES A GOOD IDEA OF HOW THE DERRICKS HAVE BEEN CRAMMED TOGETHER BY TOWN-LOT DRILLERS. THERE'S ONE TO EVERY TOWN LOT IN PARTS OF THE LONG BEACH FIELD.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART,
N.E.A. Service Writer
WASHINGTON, April 21.—America is wasting her oil as recklessly as she is wasting her timber. Her present more or less visible supply will last about 20 years more.

By "visible" is meant the oil which actually has been "located" or which geologists are practically sure of. That any important additions will be made to it is more than unlikely for as the Geological Survey says, "a large part of the territory in the United States that may possibly contain oil has been studied and 'wildcatting' has spread through 'prospective' into

Oil is imported
As with timber, the period of oil scarcity already is here.

"The country's annual production," points out the Geological Survey, "is almost half a billion barrels but the annual consumption is well beyond the half billion mark, and still growing. For some years we have had to import oil."

And experts believe we have passed the production peak.

Again, as with timber, authorities don't mean to say that we shall arrive, literally, at a given date in 1944 after which there will be no more oil—that every flake will have to be scrapped for lack of fuel.

Estimates are based on the amount of oil recoverable from the ground by present methods. It remains to be seen what can be accomplished by new ones. Thus far, however, the Geological Survey says they can be regarded only "in the experimental stage." Besides, while those which are being experimented with may prove satisfactory in some districts, it has been demonstrated already that they won't work in others.

In short, the Geological Survey finds little comfort in these suggestions of additions to the new visible domestic oil supply, considering that "the United States is already absolutely dependent on foreign countries to make up her own production, and if the foreign oil can be procured, this dependence is sure to grow, greater and greater as our fields wane."

Oil Is Wanted

Oil, once gone, is gone forever. A good deal is lost by fire, but that's now, how is oil wasted?

Accidental—incalculably so perhaps but not deliberately.

Then there's a heavy loss of the by-product—gas—which might be saved by capping the wells, and used for fuel. In the great majority of cases no such attempt is made.

But the greatest loss is due to competitive drilling.

The oil-bearing sand lies in the

GOV. GEN. WOOD AIDS VOLCANO VICTIMS

MANILA, April 24.—Governor-General Wood, who is touring the islands in his yacht Apo, has ordered supplies sent to natives of San Domingo, Balabac Island, who have been driven from their homes by an active volcano.

A wireless message from General Wood states that the volcano has been more or less active three months, throwing stones, ashes and mud over a radius of three miles. There has been no loss of life, as the natives, numbering 77, fled to places of safety.

WILL ADDRESS CITY EMPLOYEES' UNION

Mayor James M. Curley of Boston has accepted an invitation to address a meeting of the Municipal Employees' union in this city, in the near future.

A letter from His Honor was read at last Tuesday evening's bi-weekly meeting of the local organization in Trades and Labor hall. President Daniel Moynihan presided.

Secretary Donnelly and Treasurer Higgins' reports showed the organization to be in excellent standing at the present time.

Recording Secretary Roarke reported to the union members on plans and activities scheduled for the state convention of the Federation of State City and Town Employees, which will be held in Boston soon. The report of the chairman of the rally committee showed that a large number of non-union employees are showing interest in the Municipal Employees' union and were "good prospects."

Fourteen new members were initiated and seven candidates applied for membership at the Tuesday night meeting. During the social hour, Miss Burke sang solos and Mrs. Philbrick of Chelmsford street hospital, gave readings.

HELD BANQUET AND DANCING PARTY

The Talbot Mills bowlers of North Billerica closed a successful season with a banquet and dancing party in Talbot Memorial hall last night. Among the invited guests were Thomas Talbot Clark, of the Talbot mills; Supt. Robert G. Damon, Secretary Joseph P. Talbot, and Thomas P. Sheridan, chairman of the board of selectmen.

The post-prandial exercises were presided over by Secretary McTeague, ground in layers. The bottom layer is richest. The drill of course penetrates the top layer first. "The yield of what will be used the drill goes deeper, but it's worth having. The top layer having been exhausted, the well goes on down, through layer after layer, the yield growing richer and richer, until the richest of all, at the bottom, is reached.

The cream of the deposit is skimmed off the bottom and everything else is wasted.

Half Lost

How much oil is lost in this way? Nothing like exact figures are available, but Harry Slatery of the National Conservation association "guesses" half of it—until very recently. The waste isn't quite so great now. Conservationists have checked it—somewhat. But it's still very large.

How much oil there was in the ground when drilling first began in the United States is uncertain. No records were kept in the early days. Geologists generally put the figure around 20 billion barrels. Less than half that much is left. But for what was wasted, there'd be 10 billion barrels today, instead of 9 billion. And needless to say, consumption during the early years of the industry wasn't a fraction what it is now.

But still we're wasting.

CURED HIS RHEUMATISM!

"I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army over 50 years ago. Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called 'cures' and I have read about 'Urid Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain. My hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change. You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as try to get rid of your rheumatism, neuritis and like complaints by taking treatment supposed to drive Urid Acid out of your blood and body. I took Mr. Ashelman fifty years to find out the truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders, and recover his strength from 'The Inner Mysteries,' now being distributed free by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of The Sun wishes 'The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism' overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a postcard or letter to H. P. Clearwater, No. 1012-J Street, Lowell, Maine. Send now, lest you forget. If not a sufferer, cut this notice and hand this good news and opportunity to some afflicted friend. All who send will receive it by return mail without any charge whatever. Ady.

Miss Elizabeth J. Miss Hauser is secretary of the National League.

"It will be a great day for this country," she said, "when the women voters, conscious of their might, undertake a political cleanup with the

some vigor that characterized their house cleaning at home."

The chief concern of both major parties today, and the dominant influence in platform making, Miss Hauser asserted, is to get votes. This does not presuppose, she added, that there are not some among the leaders and many among the rank and file, who believe that to deserve success should be the primary consideration.

"Conscientious and intelligent women voters, like ourselves, for example, finding no standards for members imposed by the parties, are inclined to attempt to establish some standards for themselves. Interested in the present and the immediate future, they will not place too much importance on traditions, however glorious, or upon past achievements, however meritorious."

The education conference was told by Dr. Fletcher Harper Swift of the College of Education, University of Minnesota, that more than five million children of school age in the United States are not in school, and that hundreds of thousands of those who are "might better be chasing rabbits" than spending their time under the tutelage of under-paid and inefficient teachers.

"The state must assume whatever responsibility is necessary to guarantee that education opportunities shall be universal and adequate," he said.

Mrs. Agnes Warburton, of New York, educational secretary of the Co-operative league, discussed the cooperative movement before the living costs conference. She said that if one million homes suddenly were provided in the United States, the people of the country still would not be well off for shelter.

International co-operation is still necessary for the protection of Americans, particularly young girls and boys going to foreign countries for amusement or work. Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the children's bureau, United States department of labor, told the social hygiene conference. Practices of other countries are influences for good or evil in the lives of Americans, she asserted. Miss Abbott, who was unofficial representative of the United States on the advisory committee on the traffic in women and children at the League of Nations meeting in Geneva, in March, 1923, said the United States had gone further in the development of a sound public opinion on social hygiene than most nations.

WAS RUN DOWN AND VERY THIN

Too Little Blood Was Her Trouble and Tonic Treatment Restored Her Health

"I suffered from anemia for more than two years," says Mrs. Rose A. Vesper, of No. 27 Arnold's Lane, Willimantic, Conn., "and during that time I tried many remedies but with little benefit. I was all run down and very thin. My complexion was bad and I had severe headaches and attacks of indigestion. I was cold all the time, which was probably due to poor circulation. Even on a hot day I suffered with chills. I had no ambition whatever."

"One day I read in a paper about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and gave them a trial. Before I had finished taking the second box I could see that I was beginning to get more blood. My circulation improved and I had no more chills. I continued the treatment and the pills gave me an appetite and built me right up. I gained in weight and the color came back to my cheeks. My nerves were strengthened a great deal also. When ever I need a tonic I use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they always help me."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., at sixty cents per box, postpaid. Write today for a copy of the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."—Adv.

NEMO'S LAST RAMPAGE!

Nemo's spree is over. Bullets from police rifles ended his "tear" as he was destroying his cage at Brookside Zoo, Cleveland. Nemo, for years a most gentle and trustworthy elephant, had become a potential murderer. The change came as spring set in. Lions, tigers, bears and monkeys added their roars to the din when Nemo began his one elephant riot. For four hours attempts were made to distract his attention, but Nemo charged on. He was just pushing away the last bars when the police let go. Six shots were fired before he dropped.

GENERAL MOVEMENT FOR WAGE REDUCTIONS

HAVERHILL, April 23.—The Haverhill Shoe Manufacturers' association today through its secretary, Fred L. Cooper, made formal request to the Haverhill shoe board of arbitration for a complete readjustment of prices in the shoe factories with the view of substantial wage reductions. A like petition governing turn shoe prices was submitted by the association in the board earlier in the week. The petitions are believed to indicate a general movement for wage reductions in the industry. The agitation has started as the result of announcements from several prominent firms that unless they receive some wage concessions, they will be forced to liquidate or move to other localities.

After Mr. Pratt's death efforts to find the will, in which Attorney Levin was named executor, were futile.

MECCA OF MILLIONS

British Empire Exhibition, Covering 220 Acres of Ground, Opened Today

WEMBLEY, England, April 23.—By the Associated Press.—The British empire exhibition, covering 220 acres of ground and including displays from every part of the British commonwealth, was opened today by King George, to continue until September, as the mecca of thousands from overseas as well as the millions of the United Kingdom.

The exhibition was formally turned over to the king by the Prince of Wales, as president, at a colorful ceremony in the great athletic stadium, staged with all the pageantry which surrounds the public activities of British royalty.

The addresses of the king and the prince, picked up by radio, were heard by more persons than have ever before listened at one time to the words of British sovereign and his heir apparent.

Hundreds of thousands throughout the British Isles heard their ruler's voice for the first time. In London, public speakers had been set up in the public squares.

AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY CONVENTION

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Reforms in college and in high school chemistry courses, heat transfer and problems of dye, rubber, leather and gelatin production occupied the delegates attending today's sessions of the American Chemical society.

The diversity of length and content of high school courses and differing entrance requirements with respect to chemistry on the part of colleges were listed as the major faults discovered in a survey conducted by the committee on education appointed at the September meeting of the society in Milwaukee.

Adoption of the report, which was submitted by Prof. Neil E. Gordon of the University of Maryland, was announced today by the society's council. Amendment of the vocational education act to increase appropriations for instruction in home economics and establishment of a federal industrial home for women also were advocated, while continued opposition was expressed to the proposed "equal rights" amendment to the constitution sponsored by the National Woman's party.

In an attempt to correct this educational situation, the committee reported that regional representatives have been appointed in 37 states and a new outline of high school chemistry brought to the attention of 30,000 teachers had received general approval while a proposed uniform college course and plans for a national organization to deal with chemical education are being worked out. Establishment of a national journal of chemical education also was urged.

Leather experts from all parts of the country participated in sessions of the society's division of leather and gelatin chemistry.

Post discomforts which come with changing weather were attributed by John Arthur Wilson and Albert F. Gallun, Jr., of Milwaukee, to shrinking of leather in shoes. Modern research, they reported, has revolutionized the making of leather since it is found that "the degree of shrinking under fixed conditions of relative humidity is determined by the chemical composition of the leather."

ROTARY CONFERENCES

Prof. Libby Was Nominated as District Governor of Newly Formed District

WORCESTER, April 23.—Professor Herbert C. Libby of Waterville, Me., was nominated as district governor of the newly formed eighth district, and Elmer E. Hubbard of Pawtucket was nominated today at the Rotary conference held for the office of district governor of the 31st district, which includes Boston.

Henry S. Dunsen of Framingham, president of the Denison Manufacturing Co., was the principal speaker of the forenoon. Other speakers were Harry E. Gould, Quincy, Mass., general manager of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co., Clifford S. Anderson of the Norton Co., of this city; and Bertrand C. Larnber, of Boston, sales manager of the Sheldon School of Business Science.

The Salem club leads the registration from cities outside the local club, which has a registration of nearly 300, with a total of 48 delegates present at the two days' conference. Prof. Libby is second with 43, and Boston third with 33.

Under the new plan of redistricting the old 31st district, there will be 32 clubs with a membership of 1750 in the new eighth and 27 clubs with 1818 members in the new 31st district.

TO PROTECT AMERICAN RESIDENTS IN JAPAN

TOKIO, April 23.—(By the Associated Press).—Reports on the American immigration legislation as it affects Japan were submitted to a meeting of the new privy council today by Premier Kiyoura, and Foreign Minister Matsui. It is understood that the council generally endorsed the government's conduct.

Precautions have been ordered by the police to protect the persons and property of American residents of Tokio. Although some "patriots" are distributing hand bills, warning of the approach of a Japanese-American war, thus far there have been no untoward incidents. Many speakers, while bitterly attacking the United States as a nation, are cautioning their audiences against violence locally, pointing out this would only be a boomerang to Japan.

TWO INJURED IN EXPLOSION DIE

PEABODY, April 23.—Louis Graham of North Reading and Paul LaBel of Salem, who were injured in an explosion at the Woburn Degreasing plant at Peabody, last night, died of injuries this forenoon, at the Thomas hospital at Peabody. Herbert Holden of East Bridgewater, is in a critical condition. A spark from a broken electric light coming in contact with heavy gasoline fumes is supposed to have caused the explosion.

LaBel's mother, Mrs. King, is reported critically ill as Presque Isle, Me. LaBel was one of 14 children.

FOR EQUALIZATION OF PROMOTION

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Assistant Secretary Roosevelt urged the house naval committee today to report the bill of Representative Andrew, republican, Massachusetts, which would provide for equalization of promotion between naval officers of the staff and line.

Rear Admiral W. L. Rogers opposed the bill, declaring it would decrease the efficiency of the navy by creating too many high ranks with no corresponding posts to be filled.

CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, April 23.—An effort to set a definite date for consideration by the senate of the child labor amendment failed today on objection by democratic senators.

Senator Lodge asked that the resolution proposing the amendment be called up on May 6, but Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, said he thought the matter should be deferred.

FULL PEACE IN MEXICO NEAR

MEXICO CITY, April 23.—The recent succession of victories by the government troops and surrenders by rebel leaders have advanced the situation so that full peace in the republic is possible within two or three weeks, according to General Serrano, secretary of war. Only a few rebel bands remain scattered over the country, all lacking the proper materials for warfare, and the majority of their chieftains have applied for amnesty, he declared.

TENN. MANAGER FOR McADOO DROPS DEAD

MURPHREESBORO, Tenn., April 23.—George Fort Milton, 55, owner and editor of the Chattanooga Evening News, and one of the best known men in business and politics in Tennessee, died suddenly of heart disease here early today. Mr. Milton was state manager for William Gibbs McAdoo in his presidential campaign and it is thought he overtaxed his energies in his effort to keep up both his political and editorial duties.

They earn their living in Lowell; they spend their money in Lowell; they are the main support of the Lowell merchants.

SUN readers are not in the habit of running to Boston for their supplies. They trade at home.

They are the largest body of newspaper readers in the city, and few of them read any other paper because they don't need to.

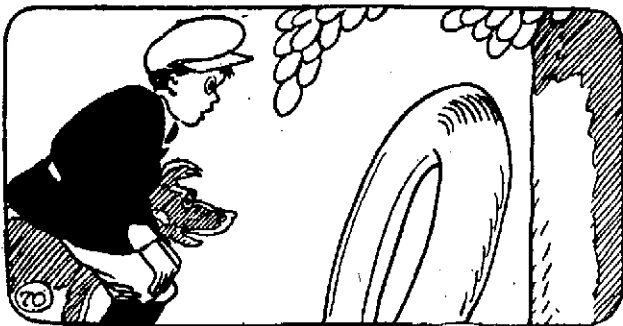

There is only one way for the merchant to reach this, large, thrifty, industrious and intelligent body of readers, and that is through the columns of THE SUN.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 24

"Why, I found you out in the roadway. You didn't come off of a machine," said Jack. "Oh, yes I did," laughed the tube. "I fell off the back of an auto on purpose, because the man never kept me pumped up. Now I'll go and get back for I think he'll keep me pumped after this."

Jack and Flip were then told to get seated comfortably inside the tube. As soon as they did the tube rose into the air and went sailing along. Almost in no time Jack looked down and saw an auto standing near where he had found the tube. Then the tube returned to earth.

As Jack and Flip crawled out of the tube, the tube shouted, "Put me back on that auto." Jack did as told and as soon as the tube was put in place a man came up and drove the auto away. Jack's adventure with the tube was over. His next adventure is with the Circus Elephant.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

"YOU'LL HAVE TO STAY AND WE'LL HAVE A PARTY"

"Now where are we going?" asked Mister Muggs, the funny fairy man, pushed the thingamajig on the magic automobile and away it started for another place in Once-Upon-a-Time Land.

"We're going to see the Three Bears," nodded Mister Muggs.

"What Three Bears?" asked Nancy.

"Why, the ideal Goldilocks' three bears, of course!"

The Twins were too much excited to say another word and the little car sped on and on and on over seven bridges and through seven tunnels and came at last to the forest where the bears lived.

Then they all got out and tapped on the front door.

But nobody was at home. The door was open a crack, so they all went in. There stood three chairs, one for the papa bear, one for the mama bear, and one for Little Johnny bear. The last had the bottom out of it where Goldilocks had sat it out. It had never been fixed.

And on the dining room table sat three bowls. But there was no soup in any of them!

And upstairs were three beds of different sizes—all muddled up as though they hadn't been made or aired for ages.

"Well, I declare!" said Mister Muggs. "This doesn't look like much of a place. No wonder they wouldn't stay at home with things in such a mess!"

"Oh, I've got a plan!" cried Nancy. "Let's fix things up. I'll hunt clean sheets and pillow cases and make the beds and sweep the rooms, and then I'll go down to the kitchen and cook some soup."

"And I'll go out and get my tools in the automobile and mend Little Johnny Bear's chair," said Mister Muggs. "And Nick can help."

Nancy found an apron and dust cap and put them on, and set to work. And then she went downstairs and found some things in the grocery cupboard and soon such good smells were coming out of the kitchen that Nick and Mister Muggs could scarcely work.

Pretty soon they heard a growly voice outside say, "Woof! Woof! I smell something gorgeous."

And a middling-sized voice said, "I smell something wonderful!"

And a teeny, tiny voice said, "I smell something grand!"

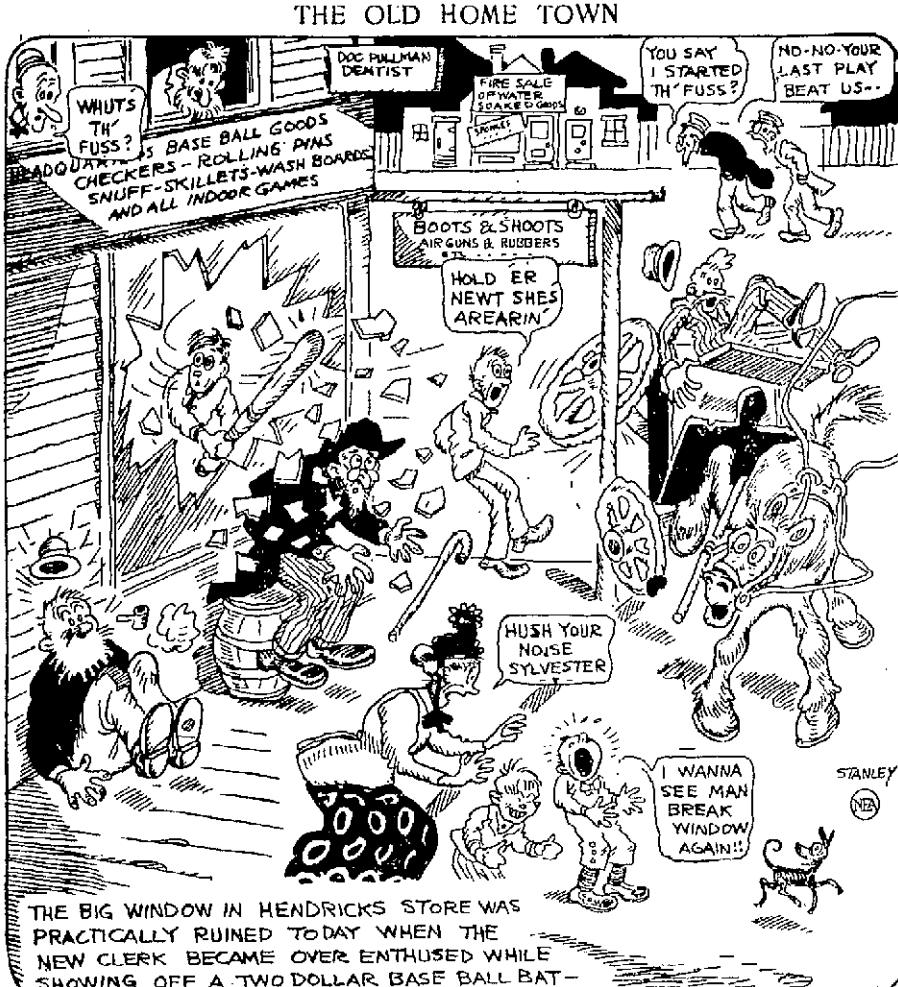

And in walked the three bears.

"Oh, there's that girl that spoiled our things," cried the papa bear.

"No, it isn't!" said the mama bear. "Where are your eyes?"

"And look, my chair's fixed," cried Johnny.

"And dinner's cooked! Hooley!"

"And you ought to see your upstairs," said Nancy with pride. "The work's all done."

"You'll have to stay and we'll have a party," growled papa bear, politely. "I'm glad to learn that all little girls are not selfish."

SEIZURE OF BREWERIES

Counsel for Anti-Saloon League Asks Attorney Gen. Stone for Ruling
Says Under Daugherty Breweries Were Permitted to Make Real Beer

NEW YORK, April 24.—A letter sent to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, charging that under Atty. Gen. Daugherty breweries were permitted to make real beer when they might have been stopped by the prohibition enforcement unit, was made public today by Orville S. Poland, counsel for the Anti-Saloon League of New York. Mr. Poland's letter requested Mr. Mellon to obtain a ruling from Atty. Gen. Stone on the seizure of breweries.

"Information has been received to the effect that under an unofficial ruling by former Atty. Gen. Daugherty, law-violating breweries were deemed to be wholly within the jurisdiction of the department of justice," the letter declared. "The prohibition officers stated they were powerless under the ruling to seize a brewery operating on a commercial scale, they were informed that many of them in the neighborhood of New York were deemed a breach of comity by the department of justice."

It is apparent that the breweries know of this departmental ruling because it is a matter of common report that many of them in the neighborhood of New York and Orange county, N. Y., and Jersey City, N. J., continued to sell beer of high alcoholic content in spite of the fact that agents of the prohibition unit know of their violations of the law.

HOUSE LEADERS HOPE TO ADJOURN JUNE 1

WASHINGTON, April 24.—House republican leaders informed President Coolidge today that the house was approaching conclusion of consideration of constructive legislation and that so far as that body was concerned, congress would be able to adjourn June 1. Those conferring with the president included the majority leader, Speaker Clegg, Chairman Snell of the rules committee and Chairman Madden of the appropriations committee.

The program for the immediate future as outlined to the president and approved by him provides for consideration of the child labor constitutional amendment, the remaining appropriations bills which are largely of a deficiency nature, and farm relief legislation.

STAGE ALL SET FOR "MY IRISH ROSE"

The stage is all set and the final arrangements completed for the presentation of "My Irish Rose" by members of St. Columba's dramatic society in the Academy of Music this evening. The play is to be directed by Thomas J. Hanna and Michael J. Mahoney, both well known in local amateur theatrical circles. Their efforts are well rewarded as the result is proved by a finished cast. The principals and groups have shown hearty co-operation in all rehearsals and performances. The cast includes: Mrs. W. J. Hanna, who has made up of men experience under the production of the directors and also under John McNabb, who is playing the part of "Shawn McGilley," "the latest man in Ireland."

To say that the performance will be a triumph is being conservative, for the cast itself needs no introduction to local audiences. The play is one of interest and story line and is well interspersed with Irish wit and humor. The cast includes: Mrs. W. J. Hanna, who has made up of men experience under the production of the directors and also under John McNabb, who is playing the part of "Shawn McGilley," "the latest man in Ireland."

Wheeler Urged "Square Deal"

ment's general land office, testified that Mr. Wheeler came to his office on one occasion, but told him he only was interested in seeing that Gordon Campbell, his client in litigation in the Montana courts, got a "square deal" from the federal government in regard to his land interests.

The commissioner added that the senator had talked to him only as any other member of the senate or house might have done for a constituent. Asked directly whether Mr. Wheeler had interested himself in any controversy between the department, he replied he did not recall any "controversy" that the senator had been interested in.

The only other witness at today's session, William G. Feely, a Washington lawyer, testified that he had handled Campbell's land matters before the interior department and that Senator Wheeler had "absolutely nothing to do with them."

No date for the next meeting was fixed, but Chairman Borah expects within a day or two to question members of the grand jury which returned the indictment against Senator Wheeler at Great Falls, Mont.

The inquiry has been held up somewhat by delays in the arrival of witnesses from Montana, but W. L. Goodman, A. S. Farling, and J. S. Wallace, who were members of the grand jury which returned the indictment, were here today for questioning about its proceedings. Senator Wheeler, in his address to the senate, shortly after the indictment was announced, declared the "most serious political enemy I have" had served as foreman of the grand jury.

Cyrus W. Irish Auditorium

Conclusion voiced the opinion that the defects could be remedied.

Common Fault in Buildings

Prof. Swan emphasized the fact that the acoustical defects were in no way the fault of the architect or the building contractor and that excessive reverberation is a common fault in many buildings that have hard walls, ceilings and floors that hard walls, ceilings and floors of the Irish auditorium that blame for the acoustical defects are laid by Prof. Swan and the object of his test today was to determine what should be done to correct the fault. He has already made a report to the commission based on the architect's drawing of the building and will make a further report on his examination today.

Dr. Lambert Talks

In conversation with a Sun reporter today, Dr. Lambert sketched briefly the work of the building commission in endeavoring to find the cause of acoustical defects in the building. It was in February, 1923, that Prof. Swan was first called into conference on the subject, he said, after numerous complaints had been heard on the poor acoustical conditions of the hall. Since that time Prof. Swan has made several recommendations which, it is believed, if carried out, will correct all defects.

Hands Tied by Litigation

He added that for the past year the commission's hands have been tied by litigation which has only recently been settled in its favor and that now the commission has the money to do the work if it deems it expedient.

Since the opening of the new high school building a year ago last September, the Irish auditorium has been of little use to the school except for assemblies due to the acoustical defects. The auditorium seats 2200 persons and it was believed when the building was built that the school graduations, school plays, and even lectures, would be given there. Before the end of the first school year it was seen that for either the high school or the auditorium, during the first winter the school was open many persons refused to attend after the first lecture owing to the fact that the talk could only be heard plainly in certain sections of the building.

Supporters of the amendment which was introduced by Representative Foster, Republican, Ohio, and reported by the judiciary committee last month, planned to bring it to a vote in the house before the week-end recess.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 24.—Too little stress has been placed on the value of physical education in the public schools system of the nation, Carl E. Schneider, Massachusetts state supervisor of physical education and president of the American Physical Education association, declared in an address prepared for delivery today before the convention of the association.

One of the chief defects in physical education in health and educational centers everywhere are becoming more impressed with the importance of the work, he said.

WOMAN MAY GET PLACE

Possibility That Woman Will

Sound Keynote at Democratic Convention

Committee Discusses Plan to

Shatter Precedent—Carrie

C. Catt Mentioned

NEW YORK, April 24.—A woman for the first time in the history of the country's major political parties, may sound the keynote of the democratic party's 1924 principles and preside as temporary chairman of the democratic national convention in Madison Square Garden next June.

The possibility was admitted when it was reliably reported last night that the sub-committee on convention arrangements had the choice of a woman for that important office under consideration. The sub-committee's choice will not be made known until after the middle of May.

Although members of the sub-committee, as well as Cordell Hull, chairman of the national committee decline to discuss the matter, there was no denial that the suggestion had been made and received with considerable favor. The committee was said to have gone so far as to discuss several of the party's foremost women politicians, and it was reported that the name of Carrie Chapman Catt had been brought into the discussion in connection with the post.

Chairman Hull left for Washington last night, having presided at the last of the sub-committee meetings on convention arrangements. A meeting of the general committee in May will be asked to place final approval on the lower committee's plans.

POLICE BELIEVE WOMAN JUMPED FROM CANAL BRIDGE

Mysterious Disappearance of Woman Seen Last Evening Standing on Bridge Immediately before Splash
in Water Was Heard Leads to Suicide Theory

A splash in the water of the Pawtucket canal about 8 o'clock last night, and the mysterious disappearance of an unknown woman from the bridge spanning the canal near Cabot street, have led the police to form a theory that a suicide was committed there, and that the supposed victim is a stout, middle-aged woman wearing a black dress, tan coat and black hat.

There is no positive proof to substantiate the suicide theory other than the report of two young girls, Irene and Mrs. Hubert Boulanger of 38 Salem street, and Jeannette Brunelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brunelle of 45 Salem street, who told the police that they were returning to their respective homes together about 8 o'clock last night. They had occasion to cross the canal bridge at Cabot street, they said, and noticed a woman standing alone in the center of the span. As they approached her, she turned half-way around and appeared to cover her face. When the girls had passed but a short distance beyond, they heard a splash in the water, and looking around, noticed that the woman had disappeared. There was no outcry or any indication of a struggle in the water beneath the bridge, but the girls felt positively sure that the splash was caused by the weight of a human body.

There have been no women reported to the police as missing within the past 24 hours.

"For my part," remarked Senator Copeland, "when a baby cries, I don't stop to think what language it is crying in."

"The doctor can't tell me anything about babies or their cries," protested Senator Dial. "I have had 10 in my house."

Expecting to get to work on the bill later today, Chairman Snoot of the finance committee declared it would be held before the senate until definite progress had been made toward its disposition.

Scenes From Recent School
Play "The Boomerang"

The acoustic defects of the Cyrus W. Irish auditorium of the high school, located in the new building, are due to excessive reverberation and can be corrected, is the opinion of acoustical engineers who today conducted scientific tests of the acoustic properties of the auditorium on invitation of Dr. John H. Lambert, chairman of the building commission.

Prof. Clifford M. Swan of New York, acoustical engineer, who for many years was associated with the late Prof. W. C. Sabine of Harvard university in the development of architectural acoustics and who has been in communication with the building commission for over a year, was in charge of the tests and with him was A. M. McMoran of Boston, representing the Johns-Manville company.

The test consisted of the presentation of several scenes of the school play, "The Boomerang," before the entire student body of the school. Tests were made with the auditorium curtain down and the actors in front of it and also with the curtain up and the actors utilizing the whole stage. During the tests the two acoustical authorities listened from many points of vantage in the huge auditorium and at their

Texas and Oklahoma Towns

Report Sighting Balloons
Early This Morning

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 24.—All seven balloons entered in the national elimination race, which took the air here late yesterday were still up this afternoon and flying northward, according to available reports received here.

News dispatches indicated that the great bags still were hovering over Oklahoma and Texas territory.

Most reports said they were traveling high, making their identification impossible. One unidentified bag was reported nearly dragging on the ground near Denton, Tex.

The point farthest north from which a report was received was Blackwell, Okla., where a balloon, flying eastward, was sighted at 10:40 a. m.

The army wireless station was awaiting word from the pilots and a watch was being kept for the return of carrier pigeons.

It was learned today that Captain H. E. Honeywell the veteran pilot, at the last minute yesterday afternoon had refused to take a basket of pigeons with him because of a superstition that pigeons bring bad luck.

Honeywell's balloon is the only one equipped with a radio broadcasting set. The other balloons are carrying receiving sets only, except H. H. Four-nier who is carrying only pigeons.

Interest is attached to Honeywell's flight because of the experiment in carrying a broadcasting set. This is thought to be a dangerous experiment because of static electricity which might ignite the bag. This is believed to be the first national balloon race in which radio stations have been able to serve as the communicating medium between free balloons and the earth.

Police Her Husband Assaulted Her With Knife

The name of Mrs. Domenicka Ignatowicz of 138 Lawrence street, who alleges that she was assaulted by her husband yesterday morning, has been placed on the dangerous list at St. John's hospital, Deputy Hugh Bowser informed Judge Enright in district court this morning when the husband, Kadenz Ignatowicz was called to answer complaints charging him with drunkenness and assault and battery. In view of this serious development in the woman's condition, the case was continued one week with bonds fixed at $1000.

Mrs. Ignatowicz presented herself at the police station about 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and informed the deputy that her husband had assaulted her with a knife. Officers Thomas O'Sullivan, Joseph Lamouraux and Matthew McGinnis went to the home in Lawrence street and placed the husband under arrest, and then brought the woman, who was bleeding from multiple wounds on the face and breast, to St. John's hospital. Examination at that institution showed her to be suffering mostly from a knife wound near the heart.

TO QUIET HYSTERIA

Governor of California Quarantines Threaten to Block

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—California must continue to quiet the hysteria created in this and neighboring states by the foot and mouth epidemic, Governor Richardson declared today. "False propaganda has caused the consumption of gasoline to be reduced 50 per cent, and hotels and resorts are doing no business," he said. "Travel has been stopped."

"If quarantines now imposed by other states continue," the governor declared, "our fruit crop will not be able to move."

"The disease is under control and is serious in only two counties."

Federal Forces in Command
WASHINGTON, April 24.—Orders were sent today by Secretary Wallace to Dr. U. S. Houch in charge of the federal forces fighting the foot and mouth disease in California immediately to take supreme command of the California state forces and direct them in conjunction with the federal staff.

BREAK JAIL FOR SECOND TIME IN SIX WEEKS

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., April 24.—Frank Bibeage of St. Louis and Joseph Williams of Chicago, broke jail in Bennington last night, for the second time in six weeks and were at large this noon. They were arrested in Manchester January 25, on a burglary charge, and held without bail for the June term of Bennington county court, being taken to Bennington for safe keeping. They broke jail March 12 and were arrested in Manchester and returned to jail. When Jailer Mayhew was in the collar attending the furnace last night, the two prisoners again removed a place of grating, lifting them into a corridor, from which they escaped through the jailer's apartment.

Tax Reduction Bill

and a recess for this and the democratic convention later in the same month, will be taken if adjournment should be found impossible, but Representative Longworth, republican leader in the house, is definitely planning to end the session by June 1.

The second installment of 1923 income taxes falls due June 15, and the plan for a reduction of 25 per cent in these levies is contained in the pending bill. Both house and senate leaders have indicated, however, that if the bill should not be passed before that time, this provision would be removed and enacted in a special resolution.

Several appropriation bills also are awaiting senate action and Chairman Smoot has promised if the revenue bill is delayed, it will be temporarily set aside for disposal of some of these measures.

TOM MIX IN "NORTH OF HUDSON BAY"

In stating that "North of Hudson Bay" is the greatest picture that Tom Mix ever attempted and made, the Metro management wishes it known that this statement is not just a mere brag about a feat. Mix, in his long and varied career, has made many pictures, but there is not one of them that in any way can be compared to this new picture, which for romance, action, and story eclipses any picture that was ever made.

The picture concerns the adventures of Michael Dane, played by Tom Mix, who is made a duke of the nation of more worldly men. He runs from one misfortune to another, from the murder of his brother, his conviction for aiding the murderer unknowingly, to the hardships he endures on the journey of death.

HILARIOUS THEATRE

Florence Vidor and David Butler are the co-stars in "Conquering the Woman," the delightfully interesting comedy drama. Miss Vidor is seen as a society girl, whose foreign accent and titled fiancé had, in the language of the day, "got her father's goat." But she was determined to rid her of her "up-stage" and haughty mannerisms and above all get rid of the monied nobleman, so he wrote to his friend out west, who sent him a rough-mannered and ill-bred cowboy. On some excuse, she got his daughter and the young cowboy to take an ocean trip together. All would have been well, if a storm hadn't come up which wrecked the boat and cast the two social extremes on a deserted island.

Here's a great situation for a movie! She a high-browed, high tempered society snob—and he, a rough westerner with as much use for manners as an Esquimo has use for bathing suits. But really it's right here where the story begins. Of course, in spite of everything they fall in love—and no that's not the end by any means. The titled "Blascoe," not wishing to see American millions slipping away from him so easily—"pulls" a cowboy stunt and kidnaps the girl and then the excitement is on in real earnest. You'll enjoy "Conquering the Woman." It's an entertaining, clean and wholesome picture.

On the same program "Hidden Gold," a strong western melodrama with Ray Gallagher and Alma Bennett as the two leading stars. It is replete with thrilling adventures and action.

A Sam Pollard comedy and a new Fox News are also included in the program.

THE STRAND

There are many excellent points about "Daring Youth," the feature attraction on The Strand bill during the week-end. The outstanding ones are a high breezy story along novel lines and an excellent cast headed by Bobo Daniels and Norman Kerry and Lee Moran. The story finds its origin in the marriage theories formulated by Panthe Huxley, that marriage, like other things should be conducted on a business basis and that too much companionship spoils romance. Such a serious theme is lightened by the deft comedy of the author, but it has moments of sober reflection. When Alla seeks to impose such a condition upon

Has Your Husband Got Indigestion?

Nothing creates domestic discord quicker than an attack of indigestion, and nothing gets rid of indigestion quicker than Bismarck Magnesia. No man can be sweet tempered, good natured or even fair minded when his stomach is constantly sick, sour, gassy, and upset with after-eating distress. If your husband has stomach trouble neither scold nor pity him, but help him by seeing that he has a supply of Bismarck Magnesia (either powder or tablets) constantly at hand. A teaspoonful of powder or two tablets taken in a little water after meals will instantly neutralize the acids in his stomach that are causing his trouble and he can enjoy his meals with no more fear of indigestion. Bismarck Magnesia is the special form of Magnesia used by thousands to neutralize stomach acidity and quickly overcome indigestion—do not confuse with Milk, Carbonate, Block or Effervescent Magnesia. Insist on Bismarck. Its action is safe, prompt and sure and it can be obtained at small cost from any reliable drug store.—Adv.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so softens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.—Adv.

Positive Relief from Indigestion

Why suffer longer from Indigestion when The Fruit Treatment will bring you prompt and permanent relief?

The original cause of indigestion is Constipation. When the bowels and kidneys do not regularly carry away the waste matters from the system, the blood becomes sluggish, impure and incapable of supplying the stomach with the gastric juice (or Dissolving Fluid) which is the most essential factor in the digestive process. Indigestion and Dyspepsia naturally follow.

Remove the cause and the complaint vanishes. "Fruit-a-tives" made from intensified fruit juices and tonics, is the finest agent in the world for restoring bowels and kidneys to their normal action. Get a box from your druggist today and say goodbye to your indigestion forever.

THE FRUIT TREATMENT Fruit-a-tives FOR CONSTIPATION

her accepted suitor, John Campbell, he naturally rejects it, but thinks better of it later. They are married and the game of seek and he sought begins. Campbell is constantly trying to keep his wife by his side while she, mindful of the arrangements, feels free to mingle with other companions. Finally, in desperation to discover whether or not his wife really loves him, he arranges with a friend to seek her companionship. The attempt meets the fate they deserve, but it brings about an amusing and amusing climax that shatters this artificial relationship and puts their marriage on a sound basis.

Herbert Rawlinson and Alice Lako are most entertaining in "The Dance of the Veil." It is an adaptation from the Saturday Evening Post story, "Clay of Calina," by Raymond Shrock. It is the story of a man of southern breeding, imbued with the ideal that prevailed in the old days of southern aristocracy, who leaves his ancestral acres in quest of greater fortune. He falls in love with a woman who is of a social sphere foreign to anything he has known before. The love is returned, but the woman is forced by a blackguard husband to elope with him, plotting against the man she loves, and the man believes that he has been made the tool of a woman's duplicity.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

There are many good things on the present week's bill at the B. F. Keith theatre, but perhaps the greatest interest centres in Miss Terin, the prima European mystery, which has been included in the week's lineup. Miss Terin will mystify you. It talks like a woman being, plays musical instruments, picks out cards and ties knots—and it's the person who looks it over to make his or her decision. There are two prizes offered to the fortunate guessers. The Four Rubial Sisters are excellent musicians and their act is of very high grade. King and Irwin, in "Goon Town Divorcement" supply one of the very best of blackface comedies, and Ed Murray is a stinging dancer and very funny man. Other points about the bill of merit are Newman & Meehan, in comedy, singing and dancing, and Downey & Claridge in music comedy. The picture feature is "Innocence," with Anna Q. Nilsson and a great cast.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"The Fighting Coward," produced by the man who made "The Covered Wagon," James Cruze, and featuring Ernest Torrence, Mary Astor, Noah Beery, Phyllis Harer and Cullen Landis, is the feature attraction of the current program at the Merrimack Square theatre.

It's a story of a man and a young fellow, who bluff and bluff along the Mississippi, the idea being to convince folks that the younger is about the most dangerous gun-fighter thereabouts, and the whole thing is just one long bluff.

Other attractions include "The Love Trap," a romance of present-day life, with an all-star cast; a comedy, "Hollywood Bound," the latest International News and an episode of the Boston Post prize reel.

Beginning Sunday the feature attraction will be "Rupert of Hentzau," with the largest cast of real stars ever assembled for a single picture.

NEW LIGHTING SERVICE

Billerica selectmen and Capt. Percy J. Wilson of the Lowell Electric Light corporation made a journey about Billerica yesterday to inspect the points where new electric lighting service is required. Numerous extensions are called for and some new lines.

The selectmen asked for most of the extensions at the annual town meeting, the requests including public service lighting on several roads in East Billerica, on Spring street to the Bedford

Says His Prescription—

Has Powerful Influence—

Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of countless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments, and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allethrin, to others who took it, with what might be called the requisite success. After years of using he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allethrin with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. A. W. Down & Co. can supply you.—Adv.

BOY SCOUTS CELEBRATE

Boy Scout Troop 4 is one year old and the flourishing organization observed its anniversary last evening with a joyous celebration that included ed banqueting, speech-making and music. Twenty-eight scouts, together with Scout Executive Edwin J. Mellen, Scoutmaster G. H. Smalle and Assistant Scoutmasters Linsley and Laseonde, with several invited guests, gathered at 7:30 p. m. for the dinner and exercises. Troop 4 has come along rapidly since it was formed twelve months ago. Regular meetings have been held during the year and there have been entertainments of varied interest, as well as many scout drills that have created considerable comment on all sides from friends of the sturdy boys banded together under the banners of Scouting. The All Souls organization has an impressive program under way for the 1924 campaign.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Child's Hair With

If you want to keep your children's hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this cannot possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. Two or three spoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff, and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will last for months.

Louisville, Nebraska.—"I was married twelve years before my boy was born. I had a lot of female troubles and had been treated by a physician for them but they continued much the same. Then I read your advertisement in the newspapers and thought I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a good trial, for if it had helped others, why not me? I have taken 36 bottles of the medicine and am never without it in the house. My baby boy is three years old now and I sure am happy since I got relief from my troubles. When any one has troubles like mine, or any ways like mine, I am always glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound so that they will get the right kind of medicine."—Mrs. J. J. YES, ERNEST, THEY ARE BEAUTIFUL!

Ernest Linnekaup, the Viennese artist who came over to paint the portraits of 15 of America's most beautiful women, has finished three of his canvases. Those he selected were Harriet Caman (upper left), and Catherine Owen (lower left), both New Yorkers, and Miss Dagmar Godowsky, daughter of Leopold Godowsky. In this picture, Linnekaup is putting the finishing touches on the portrait of Miss Godowsky. The artist regrets he must restrict his choice to 15, for he insists he never has seen so many beautiful women as he has met since his arrival in this country.

OPPOSED TO CROW-SHOOTING DRIVE BY POWDER COMPANY

Department of Agriculture Writes Congressman Rogers Condemning Anti-Crow Campaign Started by a Powder Company

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24.—That the crow-shooting crusade now being conducted throughout the country by a powder company is the greatest reactionary step in game conservation since the Migratory Bird treaty act, the official opinion of the U. S. department of agriculture, as expressed to Congressman John Jacob Rogers of Massachusetts in a letter made public today.

Ever since the powder concern in question made the first announcement of its anti-crow campaign and offered prizes to hunters bagging the largest number of crows, a battle royal has been waged, over the merits and demerits of the crow. Farmers, sportsmen, bird-lovers and ammunition manufacturers have been exceedingly active in either denouncing the crow as a pest or defending the bird as a benefactor of mankind. The U. S. department of agriculture has now come forward with a statement of its view of the matter, as determined by exhaustive investigation and experiment, showing that in some cases the crow is a benefactor of the farmer and that indiscriminate slaughter is not to be encouraged.

The statement says: "There is a wide difference, however, between the recommending of control measures in cases where they are actually needed and the urging of an indiscriminate nation-wide campaign against a bird that under some conditions is known to be distinctly beneficial. Aside from the fact that it would mean the killing of birds that may be engaged in activities decidedly beneficial to the farmer, the nation-wide anti-crow campaign presents other objections that must be given serious consideration."

"One of the outstanding objections to such a procedure is the fact that it would place in the field a large number of gunners during the spring and summer months when all should be should cease. There is every reason to believe that many of these hunters, failing to secure a reasonable number of crows, will turn their attentions to other bird life. This is inseparable from human nature and has even been recognized in the laws of some of our states which prohibit the carrying of firearms afield outside of the hunting season. To carry out such a campaign during the spring and summer months, I believe, would be the greatest reactionary step in game conservation since the migratory treaty act put a stop to spring shooting."

"You may be interested to know that in your state of Massachusetts the department of agriculture and conservation commission have taken an emphatic stand against this campaign. In Maine, also, Gov. Percival P. Baxter has taken a strong personal stand against it. Furthermore, in some of the states where the crow is less common, it is even afforded complete protection. Such, for instance, is the case in California."

KILLED IN COLLISION

Dr. Helfferich, German Financial Expert, and His Aunt Victims at Bellinzona

BERNE, Switzerland, April 24. (By the Associated Press.)—Dr. Karl Helfferich, eminent German financial authority, and his aunt were among those killed in the collision of two express trains, near Bellinzona, yesterday.

Death Confirmed

BERLIN, April 24. (By the Associated Press.)—The death of Dr. Karl Helfferich, German nationalist leader and former vice-chancellor, in the train wreck at Bellinzona, yesterday, is confirmed in an official despatch from the German consul at Lugano.

Dr. Helfferich's aunt was also killed. The consul's despatch says the identification papers of Helfferich were found among the remains of the wreck victims.

Dr. Helfferich, who was stopping at the private villa of his father-in-law on Lake Maggiore, was booked to begin a series of campaign speeches in Germany last night, in aid of the nationalist cause.

Dr. Helfferich and his aunt were in the German car on the train from Italy. This car was destroyed and the half consumed bodies in it were identified today.

Dr. Karl Theodor Helfferich, financier and statesman, held many important government posts, including the posts of ambassador to Russia, secretary of the interior, vice-chancellor and director of the Deutschebank. In January, 1915, during the war, he became minister of the treasury and was in charge of the German war loans for the successful flotation of which he earned the thanks of the kaiser, who bestowed the Iron Cross upon him.

After the war, he was a member of the Reichstag, he consistently opposed any government whose policy it was to pay war reparations. He came out in opposition to the report of the reparations experts under Dr. Brüning, General Dawes, because the plan embodied in the report, he claimed, was too severe for Germany to assume.

Dr. Schacht Not Victim

BERLIN, April 24. (By the Associated Press.)—The report that Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the German Reichsbank, was one of those killed in the wreck at Bellinzona, is unfounded. Dr. Schacht is at present in Berlin.

SENATE PASSES BONUS BILL

Vote is 67 to 17—Sufficient to Override Possible Presidential Veto

Bill Now Goes to Conference for Adjustment of Minor Differences

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Advocates of the soldier bonus bill centered their attention today on the White House. Passage of the insurance measure yesterday by the senate in substantially the same form as approved by the house left only minor differences between the chambers for adjustment in conference and it is expected to be ready soon for President Coolidge's consideration.

No word on the subject of bonus legislation has come from the president since his message to congress. He declared against a bonus at that time, but it has been predicted in some quarters recently that he might approve the insurance plan. At the same time, proponents of the bill have expressed confidence that, even if he should disapprove it, sufficient votes were assured in both the house and senate to override a veto.

The bill was passed by the senate yesterday 67 to 17 and the vote in the house was 355 to 54, much more than the necessary two-thirds majority required to pass a measure over a veto. Senate republican leaders, including Senators Lodge, Massachusetts, the floor leader, Curtis, Kansas, sponsor for the bill, Watson, Indiana, and Willis, Ohio, also have declared they would vote to override a veto of the insurance measure.

Although the bill, providing for cash payments to veterans not entitled to more than $50 in adjusted service compensation, and 20-year endowment insurance policies to others, was supported by the American Legion, senate democrats gave notice yesterday they would renew their fight for full cash payments in the next congress.

On the final vote on the bill, nine democrats and eight republicans opposed it, while 32 republicans, 22 democrats and the two Farmer-Labor senators supported it.

The roll call follows: For the bonus: Republicans—Brandages, Brookhart, Burton, Cameron, Capper, Colt, Cummings, Curtis, Dale, Elkins, Fess, Fraser, Gooding, Hale, Howell, Jones of Washington, Keyes, Ladd, Lodge, McCormick, McKelley, McLean, McNary, Norbeck, Norris, Odell, Phillips, Shortridge, Spencer, Stanford, Sterling, Warren and Willis—32.

Democrats—Adams, Ashurst, Bronsard, Caraway, Copeland, Ferris, Fletcher, George, Gerry, Harris, Harrison, Helms, Jones of New Mexico, Kendrick, McKellar, Mayfield, Neely, Overman, Owen, Pittman, Ralston, Randall, Sheppard, Simmons, Dill, Smith, Stanley, Stephens, Trammell, Walsh of Massachusetts; Walsh of Montana and Wheeler—22.

Farmer Labor—Johnson of Minnesota and Shipstead—two.

Against the bonus: Republicans—Ball, Borah, Edge, Ernst, Fernald, Pepper, Smart and Vandenberg—eight.

Democrats—Bagard, Bruce, Dill, Edwards, Glass, King, Shields, Swanson and Underwood—nine.

Of the 12 senators absent, four were paired for the bill with four against it, and four were without pairs. Those paired were: Lammot for with Reed of Pennsylvania against; Coughen for with Walter against; Watson for with Greene against; Johnson of California for, with Moses against.

Senators Robinson, Reed of Missouri, and Harrell were announced as in favor of the measure, while no announcement was made as to Senator La Follette's position. Six senators who voted against the bill voted in favor of the cash option feature. They were Borah, republican, and Dill, Glass, King, Swanson and Underwood, democrats.

Joseph P. Clark, who was arrested by Lieut. Patrick Frawley and Officer Thomas Maloney on a charge of unlawfully possessing a revolver, pleaded not guilty to that charge in district court today and was continued until tomorrow, when two new witnesses will be called to testify by defendant's counsel, Joseph P. Donahue.

Lieut. Frawley stated on the stand this morning that he found Clark in a house in Howe street on the evening of April 21, and that the young man had an unloaded revolver in his hip pocket.

When questioned as to the ownership of the gun, Clark said it belonged to the tenant in the house. A woman testifying for the government said Clark put the gun to her breast in the house and refused to allow her to leave, consenting only when she began to scream.

After his arrest on April 21, Clark was bailed in $500 securities. He was rearrested last night as a suspicious person.

FIRST DANCE BY LOCAL MASONIC LODGES

Great expectations pave the way for a notable social event in the history of Lowell fraternal organizations, when the four combined Masonic lodges of the city hold their first dance and buffet luncheon in Memorial Auditorium tomorrow evening, April 27. Directors of this April social event are delighted with the response that has come from widespread appeals issued to promote this inaugural affair that has so many promising features in both a fraternal and social way, the sponsors believe. Tomorrow night's

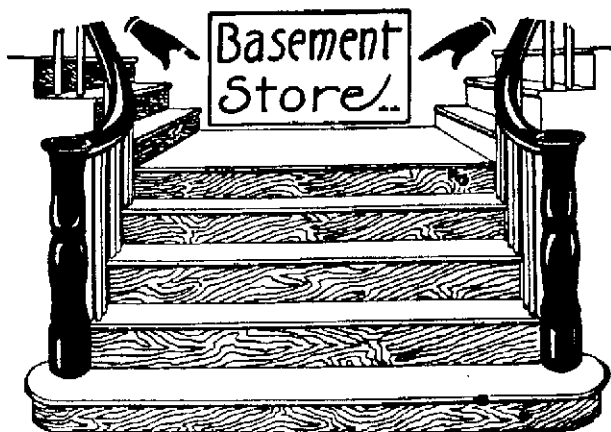

"first of its kind" in local Masonic circles has been arranged for the pleasure of both Masons and their friends.

Attractive musical features are carded for the inaugural, the discriminating music committee being fortunate in securing the services of the famous Chas. players of Swampscott. There will be a concert from 8 to 9 o'clock and dancing from 9 until 1 a. m. The buffet luncheon will be served in Liberty hall.

WILD BIRDS TAKE TO TAME LIFE

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24.—A forest ranger in Glacier National park is experimenting with the birds of the wilds by building houses for them to see whether they are susceptible to the influence of civilization. He finds they are. They seem to take to added comforts of life just like anything else. The first bird apartment house set up last spring was built in a cedar tree on a mountain slope near Glacier Park Station, Montana. It has doors that open and there are windows with real glass, besides a porch, chimney, and a roof with shingles on it. Three families of blue birds lived in the house last summer. According to the unwritten laws of "bird-dom" these same families will occupy the house again during the coming summer.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Woman Can Have

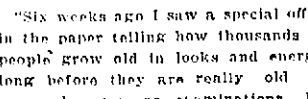

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit—15c and 30c.—Adv.

Reader Takes Newer Form of Iron—Feels Years Younger

"Six weeks ago I saw a special offer in the paper telling how thousands of people grow old in looks and energy long before they are really old in years, because, as examinations by physicians have shown, an enormous number of people do not have enough iron in their blood. I have been taking Nuxated Iron for two weeks; the results are simply astounding. The roses have come back in my cheeks, and I can conscientiously say that I feel ten years younger."

SALMON FISHING DOWN IN MAINE

Salmon-fishing in the Bridgton, Me., lake region was never better, nor the April bags so heavy, according to a faithful friend and reader of The Sun, Mr. George H. Potts, who sends the following letter from his favorite trolling grounds.

"Just a line regarding the fishing up here. There are thirty lakes all stocked with salmon and trout, and they are hitting the just now. There were two boats out on Moose pond Sunday and the fishermen got eight salmon, weighing altogether just 75 pounds. The largest salmon weighed 12 pounds and the smallest 5 pounds. Two tinypounders were taken on the next day."

JOHNSON BILL DEBATED

Lawrence Debating Team
Gets Decision Over Lowell
High in Coburn Hall

That the Johnson bill for the restriction of immigration in its original form should not be passed, was the decision of three capable judges at the annual debate in Coburn hall last night between Lowell and Lawrence high schools debating teams after the Lawrence team, on the negative side, had countered successfully arguments in favor of the bill presented by the Lowell team and in addition had brought forth an alternative plan which came as a considerable surprise to the local team.

The decision of the judges, Orel Penn, Wilfred Walker and Arthur Ray, all of Woburn, was made without conference and by ballot immediately following the last speaker in rebuttal and it met with general favor among those present for, while the Lowell team had done very well, it was considerably easier to argue against the bill, which is considered by many un-American, than it was to provide arguments in its favor.

The winning team consisted of Edward Altman, Alexander Penn, Clemens Emmett, with Carl Jarrivig as alternate. The Lowell team consisted of the following members of the Frederick T. Greenhalge Debating society: Amos Flemings, president of the society; Merrill Calkins, colonel of the regiment; and Alpheus Achin, class president; with Morris Kloger, man as alternate.

The affair was one of the most colorful of the school year. The stage was decorated on one side with streamers of blue and white, the Lawrence colors, in trellis formation with a blue "L" superimposed; while the other side was decorated in the same manner in red and white, Lowell's colors.

Prior to the debate a number of selections were played by the school band under the direction of John J. Giblin, and while the teams marched to their places on the stage, Miss Queena Douglas sang first the Lawrence song and then the Lowell song. As the debaters reached the stage, two blue candles were lighted on the Lawrence table and two red candles on the Lowell table.

Supt. of Schools Hugh J. Molloy was chairman and the timers were Gerald Hennessey for Lowell and Maurice Ravich for Lawrence. Mr. Molloy opened the debate at 8:15 o'clock and introduced the first speaker for the affirmative, Amos Flemings. He brought out in favor of the Johnson bill the fact that it would prevent crowding of Ellis island, ship racing and the breaking up of families and that further it placed the burden of proof upon the alien. It would further, he said, exclude the Japanese and others ineligible to citizenship and would keep America for Americans.

Edward Altman of Lawrence was the first speaker for the negative and said his team would attempt to prove the bill unjust from ethical, political and economic standpoints. The high light of his argument was the statement that the bill "shows unjust discrimination against certain nations and certain religions, places the Italians on a lower scale than the English and German, and raises barriers against those of Catholic and Jewish faith; all in accord with the tenets of the Ku Klux Klan."

Merrill Calkins followed for Lowell and he took the stand that the negative was defending the immigrant and he would speak for those already in this country. He said, "The mills are dull many are out of work, and some lay the blame on the influx of soldiers into civil life at the close of the war. This is true, he said, but the reason is that during the war many aliens in this country pleaded exemption and got all the good jobs there were." The principal opponents of the bill, claimed, are the big industrial men who desire a large surplus of labor in the country so that wages may be kept at the lowest possible point.

Alexander Penn of Lawrence then undertook to prove the deficiencies of the bill from the political standpoint. Its passage, he said, would strain friendly relations with several governments for both Italy and Japan had already objected and others would follow. Immigrants, he said in conclusion, make good citizens if the people of this country take a little interest in them.

The final speaker for Lowell was Alpheus Achin. Entering the lists handicapped by the fact that the two Lawrence speakers had outpointed the Lowell boys in arguments, he swung the balance to the side of Lowell by his masterly presentation of arguments from the American standpoint. "America is sick, its legislators admit it is sick, and the remedy is the Johnson bill. This bill is not for discrimination, as my opponents claim, but for equalization."

The final speaker for Lawrence was Clemens Emmett. A finished orator, though only a school boy, he presented economic reasons for opposition to the bill in a splendid manner and, in fact, won for Lawrence in presenting as an alternative to the Johnson bill, a bill providing for immigration restriction on the basis of the 1920 census, allowing 10 per cent plus 123 of the number in this country from each foreign land who have become naturalized.

Following a fifteen minute recess, the rebuttal was given by Edward Altman for the negative and Merrill Calkins for the affirmative and was followed immediately by the judges' decision. During the intermission, Queena Douglas, accompanied on the piano by Miss Ruth Boulger, gave several solos and after the rebuttal, general dancing was enjoyed until 11 o'clock.

High School Boys Flivver to Penn.

be represented at the carnival, this and now the secret is out. They were going to be on the sidelines on the day of the meet, even if they had to walk to get there. They may have to walk part of the way, at that, although faith in their flivver is intense.

They slipped out of the city on the Chelmsford road before the milkmen began distributing the bottles this morning and by the time you read this, Mr. and Mrs. Reader, they will be somewhere between Manhattan Transfer and West Philadelphia, if locomotion continues, but if it does not, you can imagine them between Littleton depot and Shirley, but still heading south.

Stark and Willard will spell each other at the wheel on the trip, each planning a stretch of four hours and then a relief of four.

Sleep? Not for those babies. They figure the school is on spring vacation all next week and they will have seven long days to snore time away. But they will be at the meet you can bet on that and they will make their presence heard.

Willard undoubtedly would have been taken along as a relay runner if his age had allowed it, but unfortunately for him he passed the school's limit on his last birthday anniversary.

BRITISH RECOGNITION OF GREEK REPUBLIC

LONDON, April 24—While no official confirmation is available, it is reported in diplomatic circles today that Great Britain is about to recognize the Greek republic.

REDMOND CO. HEAD JAILED FOR CONTEMPT

BOSTON, April 22.—James S. Lamont, president of G. F. Redmond Co., Inc., investment brokers, a firm recently closed by federal injunction and now under receivership, was ordered committed to jail by Judge Morton in federal district court late yesterday for "willfully, deliberately and contemptuously disobeying the court's direction to deliver certain books and $10,000 worth of securities to the receivers."

Evidence regarding Lamont's alleged possession of books and securities required by the receivers for the Redmond company was given at the hearing by former employees of the firm. According to this testimony, Lamont on the night of March 4, ordered that four stock books and two large volumes, called "in and out" books, showing all securities which came into or left the company's possession, be left out of the safe.

An elevator man testified that late on the night of March 4, Lamont's chauffeur carried away two big suitcases and several boxes. Lamont himself admitted on the witness stand that on the same day he took from a stock clerk $10,000 in Liberty bonds and securities of public service corporations, giving the clerk a receipt signed "E. F. Worland." He refused to answer questions relating to the books, on the grounds that such evidence might tend to incriminate him. Lamont is under indictment, with others, on charges of using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

At the trial, J. Weston Allen, one of the receivers, stated that evidence that the Redmond firm had concealed more than $3,000,000 of assets was found in the books and papers found in an attic at Lamont's home in Natick when the receivers raided the place. Counsel for Lamont intimated that they would appeal from Judge Morton's decision.

SPIRITUAL NEGLECT IS GREATEST PERIL

CHICAGO, April 24.—The spiritual neglect of childhood is America's greatest peril, speakers warned today before the annual meeting of the board of national missions of the Presbyterian church, in urging support of a national program of religious education.

"Spiritual illiteracy is the forerunner of moral bankruptcy and national decay," said the report of the board, submitted by Dr. John McDowell of New York. Approximately 27,000,000 children and young people in America are without church or Sunday school contacts and receive no formal or systematic religious training, the report cited.

TO WIPE OUT EVILS OF CHILD LABOR IN U. S.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 24.—Federal co-operation with the states is necessary to wipe out the evils of child labor in the United States, Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the United States Children's bureau, declared before the child welfare conference here today. After nearly a century of state legislation, Miss Abbott said, the census of 1920 showed more than 1,000,000 children between the ages of 10 and 16 employed.

WANT PRESIDENT TO VETO EXCLUSION

OSAKA, Japan, April 24.—Resolutions calling on the American people, as the "friends of humanity," to seek reconsideration of the action of the United States congress in adopting the Japanese exclusion clause of the immigration bill, were passed unanimously at a huge mass meeting held here yesterday under the auspices of the newspapers Mainichi, Asahi, Jiji and Kusaninichi and the federation of trade associations.

LUPO NOT GUILTY OF MURDER

CAMBRIDGE, April 24.—Nicola Lupu of Arlington, was found not guilty in the Middlesex criminal court today, on a charge of second degree murder in which it was alleged that Lupu killed Earl Lancelotti of Arlington, on June 18, 1922.

REPORT COVERS WORK OF 36 ACTIVE BISHOPS

EAST NORTFIELD, April 24.—The Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, who are in conference here to make arrangements for the quadrennial conference to be held in Springfield, next month, today considered in executive session the draft of the Episcopal address prepared by Bishop Joseph F. Berry of Philadelphia, to be delivered by him at the general conference. This task is expected to take two days more, for it will be read and revised in detail. It constitutes a report of the stewardship of the entire church structure, covering the work of 36 active bishops for the last four years and dealing with the activities of 20,000 clergymen, settled over 5,000,000 Methodist communicants.

FAVOR M'NARY-HAUGHEN AGRICULTURAL BILL

WASHINGTON, April 24.—By a vote of 14 to 6, the house agriculture committee today reported the McNary-Haugen agricultural export bill. Unsuccessful efforts were made to substitute other measures for the proposal. By a vote of 16 to 4, the committee rejected the Norris-Sinclair bill and voted down 16 to 2, the Voigt bill, which would set up a corporation to sell wheat abroad. The so-called Yankum plan, an embodied in the Aswell bill, was turned down by a viva voce vote. The McNary-Haugen measure comes from the committee with number of amendments changing the original provisions sponsored by the department of agriculture. As reported, it would provide for creation of a corporation with capital of $200,000,000, supplied by the government, to promote the sale abroad of surplus farm products, livestock, as well as grain and cotton. Affairs of the corporation would be handled by five directors, one to be the secretary of agriculture and the others to be appointed by the president, who would be required to give representation to all sections of the country. The corporation would seek to establish prices for various farm products that would bear the same ratio to about 400 basic commodities, as they did during the ten years prior to the World war.

WOMEN PRAISE PRES. COOLIDGE'S ADDRESS

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 24.—President Coolidge's reinforcement of the permanent court of international relations in his address at the annual luncheon of The Associated Press in New York, Tuesday, was commended by the board of directors of the National League of Women Voters at its pre-convention session yesterday. A telegram expressing approval of the address, was dispatched to the president by Mrs. Maude Wood Park, president of the national league.

A delegation of national league leaders, headed by Miss Ruth Morgan of New York, will attend a world court hearing before the sub-committee of the senate foreign affairs committee in Washington on April 30, the day after the close of the league's fifth annual convention here.

The league convention was scheduled to begin this afternoon with committee and departmental meetings covering a wide variety of subjects. The directors planned to bring up for action immigration matters heretofore left untouched by the league. Miss Ruth Morgan, chairman of the committee on international co-operation, present year, was to present for discussion the recent action of congress in approving the Japanese exclusion act, either in today's committee meeting or in closed session tonight.

FULLER ON TO CURLEY'S CURVES

BOSTON, April 24.—At the opening National league game in Boston yesterday, a little incident occurred during the ceremonies preceding the game that has started political tongues wagging. With the parade to the flagpole over the players and dignitaries marched to third base to place a wreath there in memory of Tony Boeckel who was killed in California. Then Mayor Curley took his position on the pitcher's mound and Lieut. Gov. Fuller moved over behind the plate. He donned Catcher O'Neil's glove and cap. Someone asked him if he wanted a mask. "No," he said, "I am onto that fellow's curves."

ANOTHER ROW AT OIL COMMITTEE INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Another row over geological surveys in Teapot Dome developed today when the oil committee resumed its hearings. J. O. Lewis, a petroleum engineer, who testified yesterday that the Dome would have been susceptible to drainage from outside wells had not the government moved to have the oil extracted immediately was recalled to the stand and was asked by Senator Walsh, the committee prosecutor, whether he had not been "guilty of deception" in testifying as an impartial expert.

"The committee sought absolutely impartial experts," said Senator Walsh, "and every member of the committee is dumbfounded to learn that months before you appeared, you had taken a position as to every policy involved in the leasing."

Senator Walsh read a letter written by Mr. Lewis, showing his position but the witness denied there was any deception and said he was impartial in his study and conclusions.

TO BECOME SUBJECT OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS

GENEVA, April 24.—A Chicago man wants to become a subject of the League of Nations. In a letter to the secretariat, he chides the league for taking no official notice of his previous forwarding of a league anthem and a league flag. He declares that he is a pacifist, against all war, and fighting, and for that reason, insists that he can swear allegiance to no country. But as he cannot live permanently in any country without becoming a citizen he begs for protection of the League of which he desires to become a subject.

The league has made public the letter as an example of the curious whims reaching Geneva and with the comment that the letter in question has not been answered.

PLAN OLD-FASHIONED FIREMEN'S MUSTER

North Andover citizens, backed by enthusiastic department firemen, ex-firemen, veteran hand-tub stalwarts and representatives of the Andover town government, plan to hold an old-fashioned firemen's muster in the north section of the town sometime in July or August. Tonight, in the North Andover central fire station, muster committees, recently selected, will meet to choose a date and draw up preliminary programs.

The citizens' committee are planning to give the people of Andover and the county at large a real firemen's muster of no small size, first meet on the night of April 22, with Andover Veteran Firemen's association leading the way. James Smith, a popular member of the latter organization, was chosen chairman of the muster committee and James Daw, of the active department, secretary.

Members of the muster committee include well known fire fighters, old and new, in the Andover district, a few of them being James Hennessey, James Hayes, James Smith, Robert Winning and Herbert Walls of the Veterans' Firemen's association; James Daw, Alexander McKinnon, Martin Lawlor, William Robert and William Handy of the Andover fire department. President James H. Walker of the Lowell Veterans Firemen's association said today that the local organization would not enter the Andover muster for there is no tub in Lowell capable of giving any performance worth mentioning. Efforts by the local veterans to purchase a hand-tub this spring for the Lowell veterans' use in the New England muster fields, have thus far failed. The Sun was informed. There is no likelihood now of any machine being purchased this year owing to the early arrival of the firemen's muster season and the lack of sufficient time in which to prepare for any contest of importance.

PLAY PRESENTED IN CHURCH VESTRY

"Three Pigs," an enjoyable three-act comedy was last evening ably presented in the vestry of the Pawtucket Congregational church by members of the Amica class of the church. The play under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Dodge Haskell, dealt with the adventures of a comely young maiden who had to put up with the old-fashioned ideas of her aunt, a superannuated spinster.

During the play and also at the conclusion, refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. George Tanner and Miss Margaret Seaton. The cast was as follows: "Emily Weston," Ruth Howe; "Aunt Cuppella," Mrs. Francis Mitchell; "Madge," Mrs. Ida E. Armstrong; "Peg," Miss Marjorie P. Pratt; "Sarah," Miss Doris C. Howker; "Lizzie," Miss Mabel G. Armstrong; "Mrs. Conit," Mrs. Helen Bowker; and "Mrs. Barclay," Mrs. Anna S. Dunning.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 24.—William H. McAdoo, speaking in the interest of his candidacy for the democratic nomination for president last night asserted Wall street wants to retain control of the government because it desires to use the funds of the federal treasury. The bankers, he said, would rather control the treasury than any other division of the government.

POLICE GIVE UP SEARCH FOR BODY

Further search for the body of Matthew Carney of 556 Bridge street, who jumped into the Merrimack river from Central bridge Monday night, has been deemed useless by Police Chief Atkinson, who is of the opinion it either was carried out to sea or was caught in growth in the bottom of the river.

TAXI ORDINANCE NEEDED

For some time past, there has been much discussion of traffic problems with a view to promoting safety on the public streets and preventing congestion. The taxi service has also been the subject of more or less discussion, and although at the present time, several of the taxi companies are giving as good service as they possibly can, yet there is urgent need of a city ordinance to regulate this business throughout the city.

In the first place, it is necessary to have a provision that every taxi company shall be licensed as such by some municipal authority. There should be further provision made under which the company doing a taxi business in Lowell, should carry liability insurance for the protection of their passengers, or any person they may run into on the streets. Such regulations would make for greater public safety and more efficient service.

The business is comparatively new in this city, and that is why there is no ordinance adopted for its regulation. It is expected, however, that an ordinance along the lines here suggested will be provided in the near future, so that all those who enter the business, will have to follow strict rules or pay the penalty by being driven out of the business.

THAT TRUNK SEWER PROBLEM

City Engineer Kearney is right when he says that the trunk sewer scheme would bankrupt the cities and towns of the Merrimack Valley without bringing them any practical return. Anybody who passes down the valley to the beach and views the numerous hills that will have to be cut through in laying a sewer, graded so as to carry the contents by gravity, will readily realize how vastly expensive such a project would be. That problem should be allowed to rest at least until the arrival of more prosperous times. Moreover, the state of New Hampshire has not joined in the undertaking and until it does, there is no use in talking of clearing the river of pollution.

PLANT A GARDEN

This is the season when a great many people hear the call of Nature, which is answered sometimes by a stroll in the wood, at others by long auto rides, but never more profitably than by planting a garden.

This affords the greatest pleasure in existence and moreover, it is the healthiest kind of exercise for those who need a spring tonic. Evidently, Nature intended most people to till the soil and grow a part of their food supply, but unfortunately, the tendencies of modern life are all in the opposite direction.

The person who plants a garden, and takes a real interest in the work, finds joy in watching the gradual growth of plant life from the seed in the soil, all through the various stages of development to the bloom and blossom of the growing plant. The home garden is also a source of education and education. The constant battle with weeds and insects is as fascinating a game as the struggle for success and against failure in the battle of making a living.

For some, the work of cultivating a garden, is the most enjoyable kind of sport. Doubtless there are many who would undertake the planting of a little garden, if they only knew how. Those who do not know, can easily learn. The art is simple, but the laws of Nature, here as in other matters, are inexorable. Recently, Congressman Rogers, sent to his constituents a list of publications dealing with gardening and a vast variety of other domestic problems. The list contains several pamphlets dealing with the cultivation of flowers and vegetables that can be had free of charge on application.

The cultivation of a garden, will impress children very forcibly with the fact that Nature makes man pay the full price for every joy, every folly, and every act of neglect, and that while effort is occasionally futile, it usually brings satisfactory returns, as shown by the law of averages. The home garden, is one of the things that connects the city child with country life and brings him in close contact with Nature and the laws, a universal source of education that should not be neglected.

ATTACKING VOLSTEAD LAW

It required real courage on the part of a clergyman, Rev. Roland W. Sawyer of Ware, to go before the house judiciary committee of congress and advocate a modification of the Volstead law so as to legalize 2 1/2 per cent. beer on the ground that the present law is fanatical and non-moraleable.

It may not be quite clear how such an attitude may be taken by a man who is a strong advocate of prohibition. His argument is, that the people respect prohibition in the general sense, but show only contempt for the Volstead law.

He cited conditions in Haverhill, Brockton and Ware to show that the business of manufacturing liquor has been driven into the houses, and that as a result the consequences, so far from being beneficial, are quite the contrary. He said the law is unworkable, and in that his statement is largely being carried by conditions all over the country.

Yet the speaker favors not the return of the spirit, but the restoration of liquor-definite law, an enforcement of law that will command respect and put an end to home brewing and the growing business of bootlegging.

Rev. Mr. Sawyer is a member of the Massachusetts legislature and a man of wide experience in such matters. He certainly has the courage of his conviction, and in what he said he undoubtedly voiced the views of a very large section of the people who, while firmly standing for the 18th amendment, think the Volstead law too extreme in its provisions.

AS TO ROMANCE

Mechanical progress is daily removing the old forms of romance as we have known them in our early youth and in the story books of past generations. At the present time, the means of communication have practically overcome the former methods adopted to prevent young people from holding conversations or communication at a distance. The polar explorer, who was formerly isolated in the Arctic blizzards, with his fate unknown, had an opportunity to emerge as a hero; but now, he is connected by radio with a broadcasting station in Chicago and however far north he goes, he can keep in daily touch with civilization.

The galloping pony express rider who was heavily armed against desperadoes, has been displaced by a safe in the steel railroad car. The lover who used to bring flowers to his sweetheart from the woods or his mother's garden, now buys them from a florist and perhaps, haggles over the price; or, he may order them by phone and have a boy deliver them. Instead of playing the part of Romeo in person, there was a time when the ardent wooer was expected to fight and defeat all rivals, usually in a duel of sword, somewhere in the suburbs. That custom still prevails in fiction, but if it occurred in real life, the police would soon load the combatants into the patrol wagon, and they would appear in the district court next morning on the charge of disturbing the peace. Invention has changed many of the settings of romance as it was formerly known, but sentiment is as strong as ever, and that is what counts.

As long as science is unable to eliminate moonlight, romance will survive. Formerly a moonlight sail in a canoe or rowboat, was quite fascinating; but that has been discounted by a spin in an auto along a smooth paved road. This is, indeed, thrilling and perhaps quite as romantic as was the night ride of old. But, of course, it is assumed that the gentle lady knows with whom she is riding, as the experience of some of the kiddy ones, in accepting such invitations from strangers, has been destructive of all the romantic features and occasionally also of the lives of the romancers.

MARTIN CONWAY'S DEATH

To the thousands of Lowell residents who were acquainted with the late Deputy Sheriff Martin Conway, the news of his sudden death will be a source of deep sorrow. Mr. Conway, in every position he had occupied, made warm friendships by his affable manner, his kindly nature and genuine goodness. The profound sympathy of his host of Lowell friends goes out to his bereaved family.

The second letter of the Japanese ambassador has tended to contribute the feeling aroused in the senate by his first note. It is predicted that if the bill is presented to President Coolidge, in its present form, he will veto it. It is doubtful whether congress would pass the measure containing the Japanese exclusion clause over the presidential veto. There is a movement on foot to modify the bill so as to allow the gentleman's agreement to remain undisturbed.

It seemed like the irony of fate that an eight-year-old boy should have a school lecture on the prevention of accidents and be killed by a truck on the streets a few minutes later. That was what happened to little Donald P. Mason, of Medford. It is supposed that he tried to jump on a passing truck and was thrown beneath the wheels. Similar accidents are of daily occurrence. Of what use is instruction if it is not obeyed?

And now the fire department motor apparatus is to be standardized on the White basis, as Chief Saunders advocates. The idea of standardized motor vehicles has its merits despite the fact that it excludes competition.

Sec-Accident General Daugherty seems more ridiculous than ever in trying to connect Senators Wheeler and Brookhart with the Russian communists.

Senator Copeland spilled the bonus beans on his democratic colleagues in the senate, but candidates for the presidency must do something to attract attention.

The Board of Public Service is pushing the work of cleaning the streets of the winter debris. It is well to have it done before the hot weather comes.

At last the bonus bill is passed, and it remains to be seen whether in this the republicans are merely passing the buck to the president.

Lowell's young athletes can win distinction if they are backed by the public.

Now's the time to boost the movement for a cinder track at Alumni field.

It is the last syllable in Vanderlip's name that seems to be getting him into trouble.

Harry K. Thaw thinks he is sane. So does every lunatic.

A Thought
Kindness is virtue itself.—Lamartine.

Yes, Wouldn't It
A man from Kentucky was in the state house recently on a sight-seeing tour conducted by a city friend. When he saw the roundabout mounted by the huge blue dome he gazed at it pensively for a moment and then remarked: "Wouldn't that hold a lot of hay?"—Indianapolis News.

Safety First
It was on the old camping ground, "Pass do hat," suggested Brudley Whetstone. But the person raised his hand. "No, sir," he shouted, "derell be no hat about it. Pass a tin box with a chain to it. De last time a hat was passed around here, it never came back, and I had to go home bareheaded."—Atlantic Constitution.

Second Chance
"Do I understand you to say that you will sell this $750 dining-room set on the installment plan for only $5 down and $5 a week?" "That's the offer," "Why, man, by the time you paid for it would be old and worn out." "Yes, I know. But then you could sell it for a genuine antique!"—Judea.

Sea In Distress
Everything had gone well with the newly wedded couple, happily after their honeymoon they had taken rooms in a hotel and so they had no housekeeping worries to mar their happiness. Disturbance came when they took a furnished house at a seaside town, sweet young Angeline undertaking to look after the cooking. It was far from being a success. The pastry was always as hard as a brick and the puddings—well! One day they had a picnic on the seashore, and were watching the waves when Angeline exclaimed dramatically: "How the sea moans!" "No wonder," replied her husband pessimistically. "I have just thrown some of your cake into it!"

Touch Old World
"I'm the unluckiest individual under the sun," remarked a clerk to his nearest neighbor. "What's the trouble now?" asked the friend. "I got two certificates from two different doctors," explained the unlucky one. "One was a certificate of health for a life insurance company, and the other a certificate of illness to be sent to the chief with a petition for a two weeks' holiday." "O, that's nothing," rejoined his fellow clerk. "I've done that myself." "But I put the certificates in the wrong envelope. The life insurance company, and the certificate of good health went to the chief. It's a wicked world, isn't it?"

When Things Go Wrong
The man who makes the best of it when anything goes wrong. Deserves to have his praise sung in language plain and strong. He doesn't get despondent when things fail to come his way. But hopes for better fortune when there comes another day. He simply takes what comes to him, and makes the best of it. Resisting the temptation to throw up his hands and quit.

He gets a lot of credit, but no more than he deserves. For failure and endeavor is most trying. And being gloomy when you're beaten doesn't help a bit. And so we like to see the man who makes the best of it. But the person who smiles, and behold with keen delight. Is the one who when things have gone wrong sets out to set them right!

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Department stores will feature standard brands of cotton goods in their advertising during the week of April 28 to May 3, which will be observed as "National Gingham Week."

It can't help but wonder when the telephone company will pay a little more attention to the pay station booths over the city and equip them with up-to-date phone directories. Today, at most booths, you find either directories of the April, 1923, vintage or none at all.

During the first 15 days in August, the 283rd Field Artillery Reserve will train at Camp Devens. This unit is a part of the XI Army Corps with headquarters in this city. Former service men are eligible to join this unit and while in camp will receive the pay for their grade as provided in the Regular Army pay tables. The 283rd FA is a motorized, machine gun unit and factors it at this time is said to have the best strength. W. H. Quinn, of 5 Marsh street is first sergeant of this battery and prospective members can reach him at that address or through Major Quincy who maintains an office at the Hildreth building. Several non-commissioned grades in the company are still vacant and there is a fine opportunity for former service men with good records to sign up as action sergeants, chauffeurs, motor vehicle dispatch riders, clerks and straight duty non-coms.

The LADY OF THE HOUSE

Hal Cochran's DAILY POEM

Trim as a dove and the essence of love is the lady I'm thinking of now. Auburn her hair and her cheeks are quite fair; there's innocent youth on her brow.

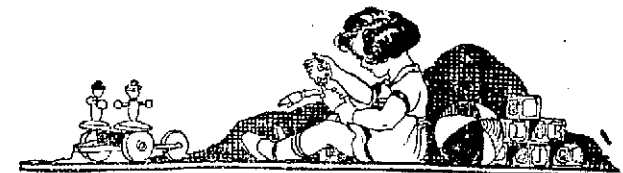

Really, my guess is that all of her dresses, that barely come down to her knees, are the last word in dash and were made by Dame Fashion especially for her, if you please.

She's haughty, this mite, through the day and night and she talks with an air of command. With every expression we call it discretion to indicate we understand.

A blossom of youth but, to tell you the truth, this tiny mite fair is a terror. At rest or at play, well, she has her own way and maybe her training's an error.

But why should we worry, there's really no hurry. Let youth have its playtime and then, if she gets to be bolder, why, shucks, when she's older, we'll train her all over again.

THREE FIRE ALARMS THIS MORNING

A telephone alarm at 9:05 this morning, followed by a bell alarm at 9:07 from box 27, summoned fire apparatus to the home of Clarence B. Nelson at 81 Mansur street where a roof fire was in progress. The fire was quickly extinguished.

At 6:27 o'clock this morning a telephone alarm summoned apparatus to Railroad street where a truck owned by a man giving the name of Bobstrom was on fire. The blaze was confined to the seat of the truck and damage was slight.

A minor roof fire at 8:58 o'clock resulted in a telephone alarm and this was quickly extinguished before any considerable damage was done.

FOURTH LECTURE ON THE CONSTITUTION

The fourth in the series of lectures on the constitution in the K. of C. course, will be delivered this evening by Joseph B. Quinn, a prominent member of Lowell council. His subject will be "The Constitution of the Present Day." The lecture will be given at the conclusion of the regular business meeting, which starts promptly at 7:45 o'clock.

ANONYMOUS LETTERS

During the past two weeks Supt. Thomas J. Sayers of the Street Railway company has received several anonymous letters containing service complaints and wishes to state that such letters, if they concern operators, are given the treatment all anonymous letters deserve—they are thrown in the waste basket and no investigation made. If anyone in the city desires to make a complaint, he said, all they have to do is see him in person or write a letter and sign their name. Such complaints will be investigated and the person making the complaint notified of the result of the investigation.

Overcast and rain fell in a goodly quantity before and after-noon. Monday and Tuesday were far from pleasing to those who would disport themselves in their new raincoat. Next week, should the weather be fair, will probably see the real Easter parade, a bit belated yet nevertheless as colorful as of old.

One thing noticeable at the churches Sunday was the profusion of flowers with the pines, colorful and pleasing bouquets. Florists reported an especially heavy business while on all sides it was agreed more flowers were worn through Lowell's streets last Sunday morning than on any other Easter since ante-bellum days.

QUARTERLY "ROLL OF HONOR"
The quarterly "roll of honor," containing the names of 84 operators, conductors and motormen, was hung in the office and lobby of the local division of the street railway company today. The men whose names appear on the honor roll have not been involved in any accident during the three months ending March 31, 1924, which could be attributed to negligence on their part.

HELD FOR ASSAULT WITH INTENT TO KILL

BROCKTON, April 21—Valentino Tronolite, 35, of 142 North Main street, charged with assault with intent to kill and assault with a dangerous weapon, a razor, was held in $500 bonds in district court today. It is alleged he attacked Mrs. Lillian Steaver, 32, of 165 Lyman street. Although badly cut, her condition is not serious. Police declare unwarranted love prompted the man's act.

WATCH THE HUMIDITY

The only time that Mr. Mann of Anytown interested himself in the temperature was when it fell to 10 below zero in February and jumped to 101 in July.

When he felt chilly in the room at home, he never thought of the reason whether his clothes were too thin or the heating apparatus was out of order. He took a blanket and was the furnace, and for granted it thermometers. And meanwhile the like of Mr. Mann lay in the garret.

But people, the word, humidity, is a word and nothing else. Yet lack of humidity causes ill health, and general discomfort and many diseases of the mucous membrane.

If a room at 65 degrees isn't warm enough for the occupant, it's not the heat, but the humidity, and water should be evaporated to bring the temperature up. In other words, it's water, rather than coal, that is needed. And water is cheaper.

When you think of temperature—think of humidity as well.

Drive the INDICAN Out of Your System

—the Danger Sign of Constipation

WARNING: INDICAN shows that your blood is clogged with toxic poisons, due to constipation. Any day these may result in severe breakdown and disease. They often lead to rheumatism and heart and lung affections.

Whether you are constipated or not, every man and woman should immediately make this test to guard his health:

Have an analysis made of your specimen, and if the chemist reports the presence of INDICAN—or if you can "feel" how poisoned you are because of headache, sallow complexion, no appetite and bad stomach—immediately start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills. Next, have another test made and see how the INDICAN disappears. With freedom from constipation poisons, come freedom from complexion blemishes: you eat well, sleep well, and feel fit, in most cases.

Note: Carter's Little Liver Pills, used for 67 years by millions of people all over the world, is a purely vegetable preparation and contains no drugs of any nature. It therefore acts in a natural way and is not habit-forming. Money refunded if results are not satisfactory.

ENTERTAINMENT IN NEW PARISH HOUSE

"The Butlers," an entertaining comedy of modern life, was staged last night by the Christian Endeavor society of the Elliot Union church in the new parish house before an audience which taxed the seating capacity of the hall.

The play was under the direction of Miss Edith C. Erskine and she was highly complimented after the presentation for the skillful manner in which it was put over. The staging of the play was also very well done and was under the direction of Alvin Sykes and Carl Carlson.

During the intermission between acts, candy was sold and Carl Marshall entertained with a number of piano selections. The play will be repeated this evening.

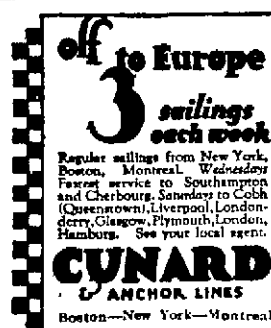

Members of the society taking part in the performance were: Ruth Richter, Harriet Myhr, Elton Silk, Violet Black, Roy Slack, Marion Howard, Raymond Alden, Everett Fernald and Beatrice Myhr.

STREET LIGHTS BROKEN

Officials of the Lowell Electric Light corporation have complained to the Billerica town authorities that street lights have been broken along Boston and Turnpike roads frequently. Hoodlums are accused of the depredations. Billerica selectmen say they belong outside of Billerica.

The police have taken steps to eliminate the vandalism. The electric light officials have informed the selectmen that unless the matter is promptly attended to, they will discontinue lights on the roads named.

ELKS HOLD FIRST IN SERIES OF DANCES

Several hundreds of terpsichorean devotees were entertained at Associate hall last night, the occasion being the first of a series of public dances to be given by the Boston convention committee of Lowell Lodge of Elks. The affair started early and lasted until midnight, there being a short intermission for refreshments at 10 o'clock.

The Mues-Doyle ten-piece orchestra gave a brief concert program before the start of the dancing. The committee in charge of the affair comprised Michael Markham, chairman; James E. Donnelly, general manager; Bernard B. Moran, floor director; J. J. Gilmore, assistant floor director; Fred J. Gilmore, secretary, and James L. Kenney, treasurer.

Some Families Are Never Ill

FORTUNATE are the children whose parents fully realize the seriousness of constipation. Hospital records prove that 75 per cent of all disease originates in bowel obstruction, or constipation. Young children cry because of it; school children are hampered in their studies; grown people are made 25 per cent less efficient; elderly people's blood pressure increases 28 per cent. Realizing this Mrs. Carrie Moss of 1714 Church st., Lynchburg Va., Mr. Louis C. Grahl of 1569 Van Ave., Lakewood, Ohio, and innumerable others, give a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at the first sign of constipation, and have no sickness among their children.

Largest Selling Laxative

Every up-to-date family medicine chest should contain a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and palatable aromatics, a prescription written 30 years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who practiced medicine 47 years. You can buy a bottle in any store where medicines are sold, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. We guarantee that if you will give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to a child or for a few nights to an adult it will relieve any case of constipation no matter how chronic, or your money will be refunded.

10 Million Bottles a Year

Use it once and you will never again take coal-tar drugs in candy form, calomel or salts. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a vegetable laxative free from opiates and narcotics. It can be safely given to infants, yet it effectively moves the bowels of adults. It acts gently; does not cramp or gripe. Keep it in the house and use it for any indication of bowel obstruction such as constipation, biliousness, torpid liver, dyspepsia, pimples and skin eruptions. Give it early and it will break up a fever or a cold overnight. A spoonful proves it.

SOCIETY TO HELP GRENfell MISSIONS

The local branch of the New England Grenfell association was organized at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. The officers elected at the session were Miss Florence V. Evans, president; Mrs. F. E. Dunbar, treasurer; Mrs. Lester Armstrong, secretary.

It was voted that the next meeting be held the first Wednesday afternoon in June at 4:15 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A.

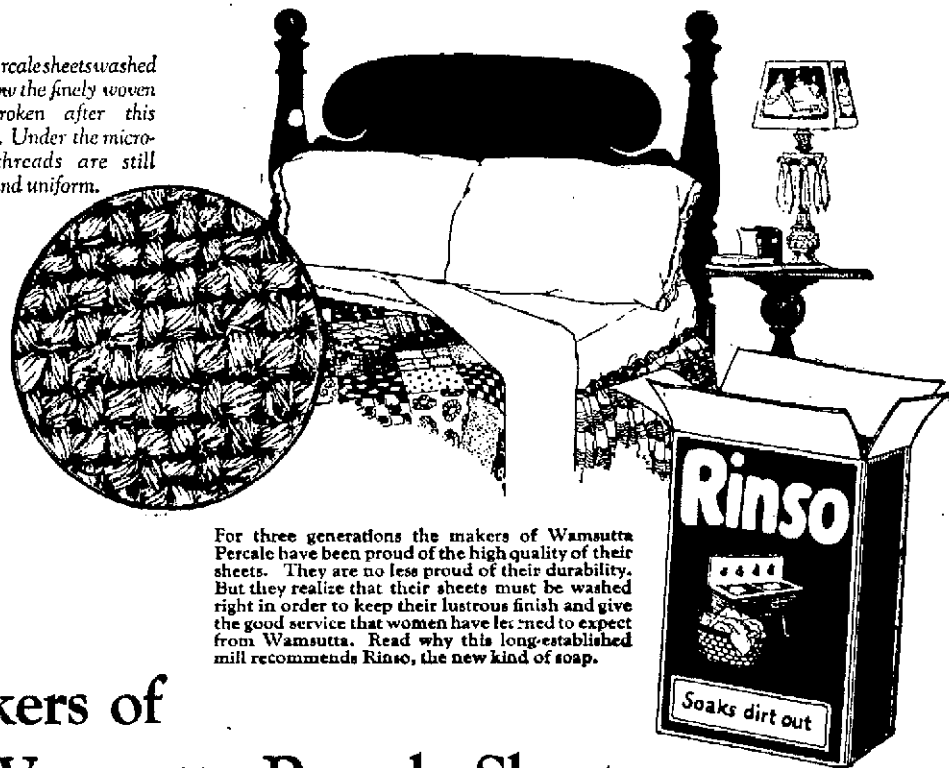

It was suggested yesterday that a membership campaign be in progress that representatives from all churches in the city might be admitted to the organization, which is an international one.

The object of the society is to help the Grenfell missions in Newfoundland and Labrador, where much is being done for the inhabitants, materially and socially.

many regions of 'possible' and even 'impossible' territory."

Oil Is Imported

As with timber, the period of oil scarcity already is here. "The country's annual production," points out the geological survey, "is almost half a billion barrels but the annual consumption is well beyond the half billion mark, and still growing. For some years we have had to import oil."

And experts believe we have passed the production peak.

Again, as with timber, authorities don't mean to say that we shall arrive, literally, at a given date in 1944 after which there will be no more oil—that every derrick will have to be scrapped for lack of fuel.

Estimates are based on the amount of oil recoverable from the ground by present methods. It remains to be seen what can be accomplished by new ones. Thus far, however, the geological survey says they can be regarded only "as in the experimental stage." Besides, while those which are being experimented with may prove satisfactory in some districts, it has been demonstrated already that they won't work in others.

In short, the geological survey finds little comfort in those suggestions of additions to the now visible domestic oil supply, considering that "the United States is already absolutely dependent on foreign countries to make up her own production, and if the foreign oil can be procured, this dependence is sure to grow, greater and greater as our fields wane."

Oil Is Wasted

Oil, once gone, is gone forever. A good deal is lost by fire, but that's not how it is lost. It is lost by accident—incalculably so perhaps but not deliberately.

Then there's a heavy loss of the by-product—gas—which might be saved by capping the wells, and used for fuel. In the great majority of cases no such attempt is made.

But the greatest loss is due to competitive drilling. The oil-bearing sand lies in the

GOV. GEN. WOOD AIDS VOLCANO VICTIMS

MANILA, April 24.—Governor-General Wood, who is touring the islands in his yacht Apo, has ordered supplies sent to natives of San Dionisio, Batan Island, who have been driven from their homes by an active volcano.

A wireless message from General Wood states that the volcano has been more or less active three months. Throwing stones, ashes and mud over a radius of three miles. There has been no loss of life, as the natives, numbering 77, fled to places of safety.

WILL ADDRESS CITY EMPLOYEES' UNION

Mayor James M. Curley of Boston has accepted an invitation to address a meeting of the Municipal Employees' union in this city, in the near future.

A letter from His Honor was read at last Tuesday evening's bi-weekly meeting of the local organization in Trades and Labor hall. President Daniel Moynihan presided.

Secretary Donnelly and Treasurer Higgins' reports showed the organization to be in excellent standing at the present time.

Recording Secretary Roark reported to the union members on plans and activities scheduled for the state convention of the Federation of State, City and Town Employees, which will be held in Boston soon. The report of the chairman of the rally committee showed that a large number of non-union employees are showing interest in the Municipal Employees' union and were "good prospects."

Fourteen new members were initiated and seven candidates applied for membership at the Tuesday night meeting. During the social hour, Miss Burke sang solos and Mrs. Philbrick of Chelmsford street hospital, gave readings.

HELD BANQUET AND DANCING PARTY

The Talbot Mills bowlers of North Billerica closed a successful season with a banquet and dancing party in Talbot Memorial hall last night. Among the invited guests were Thomas Talbot, Robert G. Damon, Secretary Joseph F. Talbot, and Thomas F. Sheridan, chairman of the board of selectmen.

The post-prandial exercises were presided over by Secretary McTeague.

ground in layers. The bottom layer is richest. The drill of course penetrates the top layer first. The yield isn't what it will be as the drill goes deeper, but it's worth having. The top layer having been exhausted, the well goes on down, through layer after layer, the yield growing richer and richer, until the richest of all, at the bottom, is reached.

The cream of the deposit is skimmed off the bottom and everything else is wasted.

Half Lost

How much oil is lost in this way? Nothing like exact figures are available, but Harry Slattery of the National Conservation association "guesses" half of it—until very recently. The waste isn't quite so great now. Conservationists have checked it—somewhat. But it's still very large.

How much oil there was in the ground when drilling first began in the United States is uncertain. No records were kept in the early days. Geologists generally put the figure around 20 billion barrels. Less than half that much is left. But for what was wasted, there'd be 10 billion barrels today. Instead of 9 billion. And needless to say, consumption during the early years of the industry wasn't a fraction what it is now.

But still we're wasting.

SERVE CRACKERS CRISP

When crackers and cheese are served as a last course be sure the crackers are very crisp. Many prefer them slightly toasted.

CURED HIS RHEUMATISM!

"I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheumatism ever since I came out of the army, over 50 years ago. Like many others, I spent money freely for so-called 'cures' and I have read about 'Uric Acid' until I could almost taste it. I could not sleep nights or walk without pain; my hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. Now I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at the change. You might just as well attempt to put out a fire with oil as to try to get rid of rheumatism, neuritis and like complaints by taking treatment supposed to drive Uric Acid out of your blood and body. It took Mr. Ashelman fifty years to find out the truth. He learned how to get rid of the true cause of his rheumatism, other disorders, and recover his strength from 'The Inner Mysteries,' now being distributed free by an authority who devoted over twenty years to the scientific study of this trouble. If any reader of The Sun wishes 'The Inner Mysteries of Rheumatism' overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries past, simply send a postcard or letter to H. P. Clearwater, No. 1012-J Street, Hallowell, Maine. Send now, lest you forget! If not a sufferer, cut this notice and hand this good news and opportunity to some afflicted friend. All who send will receive it by return mail without any charge whatever."

the same degree as first cousins; only four states disqualify paupers, and only three drunkards."

Reasons for divorce differ even more widely. Miss Griffin said, from New Hampshire with 11 causes for divorce and Oregon and Washington, with divorce for any cause the court deems sufficient to New York with only one cause, and South Carolina with none.

Miss Elizabeth J. Hauser of Girard, Ohio, discussing "Standards for party members" said the education in government and politics conference that "we can scarcely fail to note the extraordinary need for house cleaning this spring." Miss Hauser is secretary of the National league.

"It will be a great day for this country," she said, "when the women voters, conscious of their might, undertake a political cleanup with the same vigor that characterized their house cleaning at home."

The chief concern of both major parties today, and the dominant influence in platform making, Miss Hauser asserted, is to get votes. This does not presuppose, she added, that there are not some among the leaders and many among the rank and file, who believe that to deserve success should be the primary consideration.

"Conscientious and intelligent women voters, like ourselves, for example, finding no standards for members imposed by the parties, are inclined to attempt to establish some standards for themselves. Interested in the present and the immediate future, they will not place too much importance on traditions, however glorious, or upon past achievements, however meritorious."

The education conference was told by Dr. Fletcher Harper Swift of the College of Education, University of Minnesota, that more than five million children of school age in the United States are not in school, and that hundreds of thousands of those who are "might better be chasing rabbits" than spending their time under the tutelage of under-paid and inefficient teachers.

"The state must assume whatever responsibility is necessary to guarantee that education opportunities shall be universal and adequate," he said.

Mrs. Agnes Warbasse, of New York, educational secretary of the Co-operative league, discussed the cooperative movement before the living costs conference. She said that if one million homes suddenly were provided in the United States, the people of the country still would not be well off for shelter.

International co-operation is still necessary for the protection of Americans, particularly young girls and boys going to foreign countries for amusement or work, Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the children's bureau, United States department of labor, told the social hygiene conference.

Practices of other countries are influences for good or evil in the lives of Americans, she asserted. Miss Abbott, who was unofficial representative of the United States on the advisory

WAS RUN DOWN AND VERY THIN

Too Little Blood Was Her Trouble and Tonic Treatment Restored Her Health

"I suffered from anemia for more than two years," says Mrs. Rose A. Voyer, of No. 27 Arnold's Lane, Wilmamatic, Conn., "and during that time I tried many remedies but with little benefit. I was all run down and very thin. My complexion was bad and I had severe headaches and attacks of indigestion. I was cold all the time which was probably due to poor circulation. Even on a hot day I suffered with chills. I had no ambition whatever."

"One day I read in a paper about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and gave them a trial. Before I had finished taking the second box I could see that I was beginning to get more blood. My circulation improved and I had no more chills. I continued the treatment and the pills gave me an appetite and built me right up. I gained in weight and the color came back to my cheeks. My nerves were strengthened a great deal also. When I read a tonic I use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they always help me."

JOHN ANDERSON IS MISSING FROM HOME

The police have been notified that John Anderson, 60 years old, of 53 South Loring street, a carpenter in the Lawrence factory, is missing from home. He worked until 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, but did not return home and has not been seen since. He is five feet, five inches in height and weighs about 200 pounds. Any information concerning his whereabouts will be appreciated by his son-in-law, William E. Ballinger, 148 Carlisle street.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, April 24.—Stock prices resumed their movement to higher ground at the opening of today's stock market under the impetus of active buying. National Supply advanced 2 1/2 in reflection of the recent stock dividend, and Goodrich Rubber preferred and General Electric each moved up about 1 1/2. Most of the active oils, steels, motors and rails improved fractionally.

Speculative belief that the senate's defeat of the cash option amendment to the bonus bill would enhance the chances of the tax reduction bill, was reflected in the brisk demand for stocks, more than a score of issues advancing. The advance was more in the light of the American Can, Baldwin, American Sugar preferred, Pan-American B. Houston, Gulf States Steel, Allied Chemical and National Lead were among the issues to rise 1 to 2 points higher. Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke, which dropped two points to 46, a new 1924 low, and Corn Products, off one, were the only conspicuous weak spots. Foreign exchanges were reactionary.

The advance was halted in mid-afternoon by the distribution of selling orders in Southern Pacific which dropped two points from its earlier high level. Union Pacific also became heavy, and the American Tobacco issues, and Fisher Body likewise yielded considerable ground. Kroger fell 15 points to 315.

LOSS OF 45-TON SCHOONER IS ANNOUNCED

BOSTON, April 24.—The loss of the 45-ton auxiliary schooner Lawrence Murdock of Portland, Me., was reported by Captain William Doyle of this city on his arrival today from Woods Hole, with the two members of his crew. The vessel sank off Nashawena Island in a heavy sea yesterday morning just after the men had put out to sea.

The Murdock, bound from New York for Portland, with coal, put into New London for shelter after losing her mainmast and jib in heavy weather and left there Monday morning. Tuesday morning she sprang a leak, and despite constant work at the pump the water and second mate, Captain Doyle, headed for Nashawena Island and anchored near there. Wednesday morning when the decks were awash he decided to abandon the schooner.

The Murdock, originally a fisherman, was built at Essex in 1882.

The fire was in the rear of the market and centered about a barrel of rubbish. The automatic sprinkler system sounded an alarm and a passing pedestrian pulled in Box 219 shortly before 2 o'clock. The fire was practically extinguished before fire apparatus arrived. Damage to the stock could not be estimated at the time by the proprietor, Dan Derinsky, but it is not believed to be great and was caused mainly by water from the sprinkler system.

ly, according to the state's attorney, had demanded that he divorce his wife and marry her.

Smith said he had met Miss Stopa when she was employed in the office of the United States district attorney here. She had returned to Detroit some time ago, he said, and he expressed the belief that she came back to Chicago determined to kill him and his wife. She once before had threatened him.

Miss Stopa and her companion, whose name was said by the police to be Ted Glasgow, failed to appear at the Dunham office and they are being sought.

Although denying his relations with Miss Stopa had been other than platonic, Smith said he rented her an apartment in his town residence one summer.

After shooting Manning and firing at Mrs. Smith, Miss Stopa leaped through a window, Smith said. He was in a dentist's office at the time. Manning was killed he said, when he tried to catch Miss Stopa. Mrs. Smith, recently ill of influenza, still was in bed.

Today, Fast day, in observed as a legal holiday in the state of New Hampshire. This fact accounts in a large measure for the great number of cars from the neighbor state noticed throughout the city today. Fast day was formerly observed in this state. ## SEIZURE OF BREWERIES

Says Under Daugherty Breweries Were Permitted to Make Real Beer

NEW YORK, April 24.—A letter sent to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, charging that under Atty. Gen. Daugherty breweries were permitted to make real beer when they might have been stopped by the prohibition enforcement unit, was made public today by Orville S. Poland, counsel for the Anti-Saloon league of New York. Mr. Poland's letter requested Mr. Mellon to obtain a ruling from Atty. Gen. Stone on the seizure of breweries.

"Information has been received to the effect that under an unofficial ruling by former Atty. Gen. Daugherty, law-violating breweries were deemed to be wholly within the jurisdiction of the department of justice," the letter declared. "The prohibition officers stated they were powerless under the ruling to seize a brewery operating on a commercial scale; they were informed that many of them in the neighborhood of Troy, Utica and Orange county, N. Y., and Jersey City, N. J., continued to sell beer of high alcoholic content in spite of the fact that agents of the prohibition unit know of their violations of the law."

It is apparent that the breweries know of this departmental ruling, because it is a matter of common report that many of them in the neighborhood of Troy, Utica and Orange county, N. Y., and Jersey City, N. J., continued to sell beer of high alcoholic content in spite of the fact that agents of the prohibition unit know of their violations of the law.

HOUSE LEADERS HOPE TO ADJOURN JUNE 1

WASHINGTON, April 24.—House republican leaders informed President Coolidge today that the house was approaching conclusion of consideration of constructive legislation and that so far as the body was concerned, congress would be able to adjourn June 1. The program for the immediate future is outlined to the president and approved by him provides for consideration of the child labor constitutional amendment, the remaining appropriation bills which are largely of a deficiency nature, and farm relief legislation.

STAGE ALL SET FOR "MY IRISH ROSE"

The stage is all set and the final arrangements completed for the presentation of "My Irish Rose" by members of St. Columba's Dramatic society in the Academy of Music this evening. The play is to be directed by Thomas J. Heane and Michael J. Mahoney, both well known in local amateur theatrical circles. Their efforts are well rewarded as the result is a play of a high standard. The principals and groups have shown hearty co-operation in attendance and performances. The cast is made up of men and women who have had previous stage experience under the supervision of the directors and also under John McNabb, who is playing the part of "Shawn McGilley," "the last man in Ireland."

To say that the performance will be good is being conservative for the cast is a first class one. The play is one of country and city life and is well interspersed with Irish wit and humor. The cast includes Mrs. Maureen Quinn Vaughan, Joseph McAvinue, Alice Coyne, Alice Carey, Margaret McFarland, Sadie Murray, Mary Sullivan, William Finnick, John Carroll, James Clinton and John J. McNabb. The doors will open at 8 o'clock and the performance starts at 8 o'clock.

TODAY'S CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

During the trial of a non-support case in district court this morning, Mrs. Wladislaw Mackosky, wife of the defendant, admitted she holds two bank books, one in her own name showing deposits of $1900, and another in her husband's name showing deposits in the sum of $600. Mackosky pleaded not guilty and was continued until tomorrow to allow the woman to produce the bank books.

Martin Brick, charged with illegal keeping, pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $100.

John Swanson of Dunstable, was continued in $500 until April 26 on charges of drunkenness, operating an automobile while he was under the influence of liquor, and operating without license or registration. He was arrested last night in Dunstable by Officer Charles Glover of that town.

Thomas Carroll of Lincoln, N. H., was fined $15 for drunkenness and John Sullivan, drunkenness, was sentenced to three months in the house of correction.

GIRLS PLAN CROSS COUNTRY HIKE

At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the members of the Girls' City club will leave the club rooms in the square for a cross-country hike. Since so many of the members are not working, it was deemed advisable to have the hike tomorrow rather than Saturday, when many a large number is expected to join tomorrow's hikers, who will be under the supervision of Laura Edmunds, a veteran hiker.

Some evenings in the very near future, the girls will take a trip to Fort Hill park where, from the summit of the hill, they will take telescopic view of the stars, analyzing them under the direction of a person noted in the science.

On Monday evening at Maria's restaurant, Mrs. Eva W. White, guest of the Lowell District council of Welfare Workers, will address the club members. Supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. White will speak at 8 o'clock.

Wheeler Urged "Square Deal"

ment's general land office, testified that Mr. Wheeler came to his office on one occasion, but told him he only was interested in seeing that Gordon Campbell, his client in litigation in the Montana courts, got a "square deal" from the federal government in regard to his land interests.

The commissioner added that the senator had talked to him only as any other member of the senate or house might have done for a constituent. Asked directly whether Mr. Wheeler had interested himself in any controversy between the department, he replied he did not recall any "controversy" that the senator had been interested in.

The only other witness at today's session, William G. Fealy, a Washington lawyer, testified that he had handled Campbell's land matters before the interior department and that Senator Wheeler had "absolutely nothing to do with them."

No data for the next meeting was fixed, but Chairman Borah expects within a day or two to question members of the grand jury which returned the indictment against Senator Wheeler at Great Falls, Mont.

The inquiry has been held up somewhat by delays in the arrival of witnesses from Montana, but W. L. Goodman, A. S. Farling, and J. S. Wallock, who were members of the grand jury which returned the indictment, were here today for questioning about its proceedings. Senator Wheeler, in his address to the senate, shortly after the indictment was announced, declared the "bitterest political enemy I have" had served as foreman of the grand jury.

WOMAN MAY GET PLACE

Possibility That Woman Will Sound Keynote at Democratic Convention
Committee Discusses Plan to Shatter Precedent—Carrie C. Catt Mentioned

NEW YORK, April 24.—A woman for the first time in the history of the country's major political parties, may sound the keynote of the democratic party's 1924 principles and preside as temporary chairman of the democratic national convention in Madison Square Garden next June.

The possibility was admitted when it was reliably reported last night that the sub-committee on convention arrangements had the choice of a woman for that important office under consideration. The sub-committee's choice will not be made known until after the middle of May.

Although members of the sub-committee, as well as Cordell Hull, chairman of the national committee decline to discuss the matter, there was no denial that the suggestion had been made and received with considerable favor. The committee was said to have known so far as to discuss several of the party's foremost women politicians, and it was reported that the name of Carrie Chapman Catt had been brought into the discussion in connection with the post.

Chairman Hull left for Washington last night, having presided at the last of the sub-committee meetings on convention arrangements. A meeting of the general committee in May will be asked to place final approval on the lower committee's plans.

DAUGHERTY IN BITTER ATTACK

Claims He Quit Cabinet Rather Than "Contribute to Treasonable Cause"
Says Wheeler and Brookhart "Spent Summer in Russia With Soviet Friends"

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 24.—Bitterly assailing the influence which brought about his retirement from President Coolidge's cabinet and voicing a warning that "the very foundation of this government is threatened by present methods of investigations," James M. Daugherty told an audience of friends and neighbors here last night that he had given up his cabinet post rather than "contribute to a treasonable cause."

Communism and its alleged influence on the federal government through certain United States senators was discussed at length, the former attorney general charging that the communist influence in Missouri was directing propaganda in this country to the end of causing revolution.

"There have been too many pilgrimages of late to Moscow and too few to Mount Vernon, Springfield, Ill., and Canton and Marion, Ohio," he shouted, deprecating for a moment from his personal address. He named Senators Wheeler and Brookhart as having "spent last summer in Russia, with their Soviet friends."

Commenting on his refusal to turn over to the Wheeler investigating committee department of justice files which action precipitated the request by the president for his resignation, Mr. Daugherty said: "I preferred to permit my integrity to be questioned and my honor to hang in the balance for the time being rather than surrender the files in the keeping of the department of justice. I gladly gave up a post or honor rather than contribute to a treasonable cause."

Mr. Daugherty said that Frank A. Vanderlip, whom he characterized as a man of "much intellectuality" was paying most of the expense of the Wheeler investigating committee. He asserted that Mr. Vanderlip "now is trying to justify the insane attacks upon the honor of a dead president and within the last few days has vent upon President Coolidge."
